Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SAIGON — U.S. military sources said, in the light of enemy troop movements, they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

Unveil Toll Ramp Plan

COMMUNITY RESOURCES have been put to work in Elk Grove in the form of an ambulance for the Elk Grove Fire Department. The Lions Club decided two years ago that an ambulance was necessary and consequently bought one for the department and presented it last July 4. Profit from this year's July 4th celebration sponsored by the Lions Club and a recent rummage sale completed the $12,000 transaction. Here firemen Howard Stroker and Len Zgoina show the ambulance in use.

Plans announced yesterday for the Arlington Heights Road interchange with the Northwest Tollway show a plan that is shadowing the long-proposed full cloverleaf.

The original proposal, submitted last year to the Illinois Division of Highways from the Illinois Tollway Authority, showed two access ramps to and from the tollway and a circular ramp in the southwest quadrant.

The new plans, which have received an informal go ahead sign from the state, show an additional circular ramp in the northwest quadrant of the interchange.

As designed, the ramp will circle the Elk Grove Township Hall.

MIKE ENDRES, a design engineer for the consulting firm of Knoerle, Bender, Stone and Associates, which is preparing the plans, told the Herald that the state had advised the tollway commission to go ahead with the new plans.

The sketches and plans must now go to the legal department of the tollway commission for approval. The legal department is responsible for acquiring land for the project.

Then, if final state and county approval is granted, bids can be accepted for the project, which has been pegged at a total cost of about $1.4 million. It is scheduled for completion in fall of next year.

THE REVISED MAP of the project shows that the new circular loop in the northwest quadrant eliminates a traffic light north of the interchange.

Originally, westbound traffic headed for Elk Grove would have exited on the same ramp used by Arlington Heights traffic heading northbound. A light might have been necessary.

The new plan shows Elk Grove traffic from Chicago traveling beyond the bridge over Arlington Heights Road, exiting on a ramp which circles and enters southbound Arlington Heights Road.

Other features of the plan remain the same. Westbound traffic exiting the northbound Arlington Heights Road will exit before reaching the bridge and will funnel into the road north of the bridge.

TO ENTER the tollway from Arlington Heights, drive past the bridge and enter the circular ramp.

To enter the tollway from Elk Grove, turn right before reaching the bridge.

Eventually, when traffic warrants it, tollway officials plan to convert the interchange into a full cloverleaf, allowing entrance and exit in all directions for all traffic.

Residents of Elk Grove and Arlington Heights have been arguing for many years in favor of at least a partial interchange. The Tollway Access Committee (TAC), a group of residents of both communities, has argued long and hard for the interchange.

Jazz Band Wins First In State

The Elk Grove High School Jazz Band won championship honors Friday at the State Fair in competition with 17 other high school bands from Illinois.

A select band of 24 members, the jazz band was competing for the second time at the State Fair. Last year the band received superior rating.

The competition entitled Calvalcade of Music was a part of the Salute to Youth Day, the opening day at the fair. As a result of the win in the all-day competition the band was asked to perform in a special program in the evening before an estimated crowd of 70,000. Doug Peterson, band director, was then awarded the musical trophy by Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

THE EVENING program of professional musical acts was highlighted by a performance of the Iron Butterfly.

"The band was thrilled to be performing for that many people. It's really an honor and we felt proud to be able to win for the district," Peterson said.

According to Peterson, one of the judges, Charles Suber, editor of the nationwide jazz publication, "Downbeat," commented that the Elk Grove music was one of the most mature professional sounds he has heard from a high school band.

THE BAND performed three songs, which were written by John Higgins, a graduate of Prospect High School, and of the University of Michigan. Two of the songs, "Baldie" and "Orange Peel," were especially composed for the Elk Grove High School band. The third song, "Hobo Flats," was arranged by Higgins for the band.

Sensitive Student, He'll Seek Dignity

by KATHY BARNES

I saw chalk drawings on the wall which he had done, the copy of Lawrence Ferlinghetti's "Coney Island of the Mind" and as he ushered me to an overstuffed chair, I could feel how this 17-year-old wasn't a boy at all, but a sensitive and remarkable individual. Then he told me he is in the process of writing two plays and portraying the king in a student production of "Once Upon A Mattress."

Steve Linsner of Palatine, a 1969 St. Viator's graduate, is exactly the type of student for New College in Sarasota, Fla.

New College is a revolutionary concept in education which is looking for what Steve calls "qualified underachievers," or students who have never been stimulated intellectually to the point of real motivation.

It seeks to "maintain the dignity of the student's role in his own education."

"DIGNITY, THAT'S IT! That hits it right on the head," the student must have his own dignity. Did you read that story in the Los Angeles Free Press called "Student as Nigger?"

Steve exclaimed.

The story discusses the inequities in modern university faculties concerning the treatment of students.

"Why is it that teachers are so often interested in their own goals, or writing the great American novel instead of being concerned with the interests and needs of their students?" he asked.

I related my experiences with bad teachers and those who purposely make things hard for students.

He agreed and pushed things a little farther: "If they can't care about us learning and teaching them at the same time, then they shouldn't be teachers."

HE TOLD ME THAT his acceptance letter from New College said the learning process would come from them, but they also expected he would have much to contribute to the college. "That's a great feeling, for them to think I have something to teach them."

At New College, Steve says, all students receive a bachelor of arts degree, which may be completed in three years. There is not necessarily any specialized area of study besides that which the student wishes to make for himself.

STEVE THINKS HE may go into some area of psychology, but doesn't think he'll "ever quit writing — I guess that's really what I'm interested in."

He sees the necessity for a graduate education and, as 80 per cent of this year's New College class, he will follow them to the best graduate schools in the country.

New College's unique educational concept is this: "The student makes a contract with two faculty advisers at the beginning of each term. It is his own responsibility to fulfill the terms of the contract in any manner he wishes. He then must convince his advisers he has fulfilled his contract."

He may do this by any method from traditional coursework to independent study.

THERE ARE NO GRADES, pre-requisites or credit hours.

In addition, each student has a one month period of each year in which he may pursue any type of independent project he may wish.

Steve says this may range anywhere from studying at another school to traveling.

He knows of one group of students who conducted a T-group on a remote island. A T-group is involved in introspection and sensitivity training.

For his first independent study project, Steve says he will produce one of the plays he is currently writing. A friend from Iowa will help with the production.

HE TALKED ABOUT people and why they don't understand each other — "The big thing with people is the need to love someone else."

Suburban apathy, a focal point for many young people, is abundant here, Steve be- still apathetic, although, they "care about things that much."

He spoke of the attitude of his high school and said it could be classified more liberal than most. He said the students are still apathetic, although, they "care about other things."

He said he didn't want to put himself in a category as far as political beliefs go, because there are always inconsistencies.

THE CHANGE IN society? The mass media has had a lot to do with the changes in our entire social structure. So much has happened in the past few years, so many social problems have arisen, it's hard to keep up with them all.

Steve will leave for a totally new experience in a few weeks, an experience in "learning to make choices and learning to deal with others."

Some would argue with the ideas generated at New College, but it is now considered one of the best colleges in the country. It received its accreditation in a remarkably short time.

NEW COLLEGE graduates have made themselves heard in many fields across the nation. Of the 1969 graduating class, ten per cent went on to medical school, five students won Woodrow Wilson grants, one received a stipend from the National Science Foundation, two won Fulbright scholarships and two are Lehman scholars.

Its students are permitted seats on the board of trustees and the faculty governing bodies. They are given a voice in their school and they are consulted on its policies.

There have been no riots at New College, nor are there likely to be. A place like New College is what some students are asking for.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING the second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 28.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,881 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

A total of 405 junior high school students were enrolled in the practical arts program during the spring semester at Wheeling High School.

HEAD START volunteers staffed an empty classroom in Arlington Heights yesterday afternoon. Some parents of children in the program voted Friday to boycott today's classes in Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Palatine and Des Plaines and to demand that funding for the program be switched from Norwesco to some other agency. The group also plans to press for staff changes.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1968 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 100,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 188,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

Manpower Needed

Plans to improve the Hanover Park Police Department and civil defense program were announced at Thursday night's village board meeting.

According to Trustee Louis Barone, the village's police force is currently understaffed by about three men. Barone said FBI regulations call for at least one full-time police officer for every 1,000 residents. Hanover Park's population is now about 10,000, but there are only seven full-time policemen on the force.

Since the police board will be administering tests shortly for new applicants, Barone hopes that new members can be added to the force.

THIS YEAR'S appropriation budget listed $164,516 for wages and labor in the police department. However, this is not necessarily close to the actual amount that will be spent. The final draft of the budget, which will give a much closer indication, will be available at the next board meeting Aug. 21.

The village's civil defense department is also looking for qualified personnel. Bar-

by DON BIRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld. Johnston, R-Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, answering Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weathersfield Commons, Golf-Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hoffman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Announce Placement Tests for Dist. 59

A placement test for new school Dist. 59 students who will attend Tom Lively Junior High School, Elk Grove Village, will be administered Aug. 20 at 8:30 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

The test is for all students enrolling at Lively Junior High for the first time, including grades 6, 7 and 8. It is a basic achievement battery, the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills.

"NO SPECIAL preparation is necessary to take the test," Principal Charles H. Bassford said. However, each student is asked to bring several soft-leaded pencils for testing purposes.

Lively Junior High is located approximately 1/2 mile west of the intersection of Arlington Heights (State) Road and Biesterfield Road, one block south on Leicester Road.

The test is scheduled to end around noon.

The Lighter Side

The Smooth Sell

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago, a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the "principles and techniques" of selling could, with slight modification, "just as easily be applied" to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty ruminations was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Seduction." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

I have an ingrown suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

By coincidence, however, it happened to arrive at time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used car sales.

To illustrate the point, I have taken a few lines from "Romeo and Juliet" and transferred them to a used car lot:

Customer: How about this 1962 station wagon over here? Is it in pretty good condition?

Salesman: "One fairer than my love, the all-seeing sun ne'er saw her match since first the world began. She hangs upon the cheek of night like a rich jewel. Her beauty makes this value a feasting presence full of light."

Customer: How about the price?

Salesman: "A beggarly account of empty boxes."

Customer: Actually I was looking for a smaller car. How about that compact over there?

Salesman: "She comes in shape no bigger than an agate-stone on the forefinger of an alderman."

Customer: But those little cars are usually sluggish. Will this one run good?

Salesman: "Like the lightning, Ten times faster glide than the sun's beams."

Customer: What kind of guarantee will you give me?

Salesman: "By yonder blessed moon I swear, that tips with silver all these fruit-

Will Narrow Gap

Plans are under way to bridge the gap in communications between the Elk Grove Village Plan Commission and the village board.

"We're trying to set up a line of communications in this area," said Richard McGrenera, village trustee. McGrenera is judiciary planning and zoning committee chairman for the village board and was a member of the plan commission for nine years.

The plan commission acts as recommendation board to the village board and reviews zoning and annexation petitions as to their feasibility according to the village master plan.

McGRENERA AGREED that there was "a tremendous communication problem." "So many things have been happening so quickly that we've had little time to set up better communications, but I began a month ago and plan to do what I can to solve the problem," McGrenera said.

The plan commission decided to send one representative to the village board meetings, according to Tom Hamilton, plan commission member. McGrenera said, "I will represent the village board and plan committee at the plan commission meetings."

McGrenera explained that much of the planning committee's time lately has been taken up in the planning of the municipal building. "We often spent 10 to 15 hours a week on it, but now I will have more time to spend working with the plan commission."

"I HAVE REQUESTED that all petitions be sent to the committee at the same time that they are sent to the commission so we can talk any problems out with them beforehand."

"We have some very capable people on the plan commission. Elk Grove residents only hear about them when someone has a particular complaint."

"I would like to try and impress them with the importance of their responsibility. They are tremendously capable people and I'm very grateful to them as a villager," McGrenera said.

Dist. 59 Begins Sign-Up

Registration for School Dist. 59 students will begin Wednesday and extend through Aug. 19. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Al Waltman, acting superintendent, requests that all new neighbors in Dist. 59 be encouraged to enroll their children.

"If all registrations are made prior to the opening of school, we can develop our classes, form our groups, and have an effective opening of schools for the more than 11,000 students who are expected."

"If a large number of students are not registered prior to the beginning of school, instruction on the first day will be impaired," he said.

'Aida' in Concert Thrilling Music

by MONICA WILCH

When words create a visual picture in the reader's mind, the writer has achieved the ideal. So it is with music, and composer Verdi has attained the pinnacle of success in writing music for instruments and voices that paints a scene — indeed, a whole story — even without the use of costumes, props and actions.

All the pageantry of the spectacular opera "Aida" and the tragedy of its age-old love theme came to life at Ravinia Thursday night as the orchestra, chorus and guest soloists presented it in concert version.

With a clear and brilliant soprano voice Miss Martina Arroyo portrayed the love-stricken slave girl, Aida. Her vocal flexibility ranged from the emotion-packed "Ritorna Vincitor!" to her sweet and lilting plea for Radames to flee Egypt, to the final, tragic "O Terra Addio" — "Farewell, O Earth!"

THE GRACIOUS Miss Arroyo, who performed the role of Aida at the Metropolitan Opera on two days' notice, replacing Birgit Nilsson, equaled if not surpassed that star's interpretation of "O Patria Mia," Aida's tender and nostalgic farewell to her homeland.

As her rival, Amneris, Lili Chookasian, a Chicagoan and former music instructor at Northwestern University, burst forth in a rich alto voice capable of explosive passion as well as dark, velvety purring.

Both women bring a fresh new approach to operatic interpretation, using a minimum of portamento and hitting true, high pitches. Both also displayed excellent breath control, for soft as well as sustained tones.

A MORE TRADITIONAL operatic singer, Richard Tucker, portrayed Radames, the object of Aida's and Amneris' love. Tucker's sing is better-suited for the more dramatic scenes, which he does with flourish, than for delicate arias such as "Celeste Aida," which was rough. Even at that, he "pumps," and some of his tones seem forced and harsh, as the final note in the last scene when his voice overpowered Miss Arroyo's light, high tone.

Sherrill Milnes, Chicagoan, former Northwestern student and one of the leading baritones of the Met, and Ara Berberian, an opera veteran, sang Amonasro, Aida's father, and King of Ethiopia, and Ramphis, the high priest, respectively.

Milnes' powerful and dramatic voice just seemed to roll out, and combined with the fine baritone of Berberian, created not a few tremendously exciting moments.

SUPPORTING THE soloists, a strong and well-blended chorus boomed its welcome to the victorious RADAMES in the triumphal march scene, and chanted softly and eagerly as the priests and priestesses came to the victorious Radames in the triumphal march scene, and chanted softly and eagerly as the priests and priestesses during the trial and entombment.

The triumphal march also presented the Chicago Symphony's fine brass section with an opportunity to shine, which they did, under the talented baton of conductor Giuseppe Patane.

Altogether, it was a thrilling performance of a musical masterpiece.

Wheeling residents, Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Jones, 170 E. Highland Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Richard Benthaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Benthaus of Deerfield.

Miss Jones, a graduate of Sacred Heart of Mary High School, is employed by Berkley Photo Service, Inc., Des Plaines. Her fiancé is a graduate of Deerfield High School. No wedding date has been set.

The engagement of Gail Ann Ribar, daughter of the Louis A. Ribars of 1601 S. Quentin Road, Palatine, to Jack F. Merchant of Barrington is announced by Miss Ribar's parents.

A November wedding is planned. Miss Ribar is a graduate of Fremd High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Barrington Consolidated High School and is presently employed by Addison Auto Crafters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Merchant of Barrington.

Ah, Wilderness—Fading

by THOMAS POWERS

Notes from the Century Before by Edward Hoagland. Random House, $6.95.

There probably is more wilderness left in North America than almost anywhere else in the world, but it may not last the century.

The difficulty in preserving wilderness is that it repeatedly comes under attack. While campaigns were being waged to create a Redwoods National Park in California, Walt Disney won the right to use 3,000 wilderness acres in the Sierras for a ski resort.

In another generation, while conservationists fight elsewhere, some new Disney will try to exploit Redwoods Park.

EDWARD HOAGLAND, a novelist with a stutter and a taste for adventure, visited the unexploited British Columbia wilderness. He was first attracted by the remains of the Telegraph Trail, a project for a telegraph line around the world. After 400 miles were constructed Atlantic cables made the project obsolete and it was abandoned.

Hoagland never did walk the trail's length, but he spent two months in the little-known area of the Northwest. His account of the Indians, trappers, wolfers, Mounties and bush pilots is eloquent and spare.

In his first two weeks back in New York, Hoagland said, he saw a man, shot in the stomach, groaning on a door stoop and heard another fall in front of a subway. He wondered which was the wilderness.

Kressman Is Honored At Arizona State U.

Jeffrey L. Kressman, of Palatine, was named to the high honors list at Arizona State University, College of Liberal Arts, for academic achievement during the second semester.

Students whose names appear on the high honors list achieved grade-point averages between 3.50 (b plus) and 4. (A) during the spring semester.

Mellin on Honor Roll For Spring Semester

William D. Mellin, son of Mrs. Grace H. Mellin of 1868 W. Baldwin Road, Palatine, has been named to the University of Tampa spring semester honor roll.

Students must earn a grade point average of 2.0 or better of a possible 3.0 while completing at last 12 hours of course work to qualify for listing.

Mellin is a graduate of Palatine Township High School and earned a bachelor's degree in business with a minor in economics from the University this June. He was a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Pool Party Tonight

"Come on in! The water's fine!" invites the Sisterhood of Beth Judea Congregation, Buffalo Grove. The poolside party will be held at 7:30 tonight (Tuesday) at the home of Mrs. Everett Smolinsky, 396 Indian Hill, Buffalo Grove.

"Goodies," both dietetic and otherwise, will be served, and in case of rain the party will be held indoors.

Combine Cards, Fashions

Boutique fashions and bridge are at the top of the list of activities planned for the women of the Horseshoe Club in the Penthouse of the Arlington Park Towers. The first such afternoon is scheduled for tomorrow (Wednesday) for members and their guests.

A sit-down luncheon of watercress soup, fresh fruit salad, turkey Marco Polo, carrots vichy, miniature cinnamon, blueberry, and bran muffins, beverage, and miniature French pastries will be served at 12:30.

Fashions by the Clothes Horse include designs by Nannette, Malcolm Starr, Adele Simpson, Gino Paoli and others. They range from a fun fake leopard coat to a magnificent Kobren ribbon knit coat, trimmed with white mink. Particularly fascinating is an elegant suede pants suit and a tied-dyed print hostess gown meant to be worn unbuttoned to the waist over a matching bra. Jewelry by Hobe Limited and Joseph Mazer will be featured.

Hair styles for the models will be created by Ron of the Arlington Park Towers Beauty Shop.

The Horseshoe Club is a private club for community and business leaders. Unlike many such clubs, it opens its membership to women. Therefore, according to the manager, Aida Fiedler, a woman may participate because her husband is a member or she may apply for membership herself.

What's Fashion for Fall

by United Press International

Color goes on the bold standard for fall footwear. The National Footwear Institute says that brown in all tones comes on strong. But look for mariner and navy blues, the ultraviolets, the deep reds, the tones of wine or bing cherries.

What is fashion? Today, it is the "spirit to understand, to capture, that women have to make their own and adapt to their personality, physically and psychologically," says designer Philippe Heim. "Too many women make wrong choices because they just copy other women, without thinking. So, they can be seen wearing the wrong fancy stockings, with the wrong hemline, the wrong fabric or colors, the wrong hairdo." Says Heim, "Their elegance is a failure, because they are unconscious about what is right or not."

A Day in Long Grove for Newcomers

A day in Long Grove, for antique shopping, window browsing and luncheon is planned for the Hoffman-Schaumburg Newcomers Club "Ladies Day Out" Wednesday, Aug. 20.

Members and prospective members will depart from Golf Rose Shopping Center in Hoffman Estates at 10 a.m. New residents of the Hoffman-Schaumburg area are urged to join the group and for further information may call Mrs. William King, 529-8827.

THE SPECIAL INTERESTS Committee is in the process of formulating plans for the new season. The bowling league will open play Wednesday, Sept. 10 at 10 a.m. The league will bowl at Hoffman Lanes and the cost is $2. To register, newcomers may contact Mrs. Richard Ortwitz, 894-2320 or Mrs. Frederick Dix, 894-2638.

To "Make Friends through Bridge" newcomers may contact Mrs. Ronald Ostrom, 894-4282 before Sept. 1. There will be a beginners class, a couples bridge flight and a girls' night out.

RIPON COLLEGE GRADUATES, Mary Elizabeth Cockrell and Lt. Richard Earle Wilmes, were married recently in St. James Catholic Church and are now living in Frederick, Md. where the groom is stationed at Ft. Detrick. The bride is the daughter of the Matthew Cockrells of Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilmes of Lake Zurich.

TV in Bits And Pieces

by JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The third video version of a Theodore H. White book about a presidential campaign will be a Xerox special on the CBS network Sept. 9. This one, of course, deals with the 1968 campaign between President Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey. "The Making of a President, 1968" starts with the January, 1968, primary in New Hampshire and ends with the election in November.

CBS puts "Get Smart," the spoofing series moving over from NBC, on its air Sept. 26. It will have the 7:30-8 p.m. Friday spot weekly. Fifth season out for stars Don Adams, Barbara Feldon and Ed Platt.

Zany Woody Allen, performer and writer, will have a video starring special on CBS Sept. 21. Actress Candice Bergen, evangelist Billy Graham and the 5th Dimension singing group will go along.

NBC is repeating on Sept. 11 "Male of the Species," a good original video drama of the "Prudential on Stage" series of last season Jan. 3. Sean Connery, Michael Caine, Paul Scofield, Anna Calder-Marshall and Sir Laurence Olivier are the prestigious Britishers involved.

Screen star Tony Curtis will make a rare television appearance Sept. 6 on NBC as host of "All-Star Circus," a one-hour special built around famous European circus acts.

ON A RECENT NASSAU cruise were Mr. and Mrs. John Pascoe and their son, John, 729 Linda Terrace, Wheeling. With the S.S. New Bahama Star as their floating resort hotel, the Pascoes included sightseeing, shopping and Bahamian night life in their cruise.

New Decorator Ideas for Bathroom

Bathrooms have too long been regarded as the stepchild-room of the home. Right about now, homemakers, decorators and oven scientists are taking a critical look at one of the basic problems of family living — the inadequate bathroom.

Decorator Edmund Motyka has some interesting ideas about how to make your own bath more functional and attractive.

"Bath time is for relaxing and soothing as much as for hygiene . . . a time for pampering oneself," he says. "We could take a tip from the Japanese, who separate bathing and toilet facilities. It's a fine idea to construct a vanitum panel that removes the toilet facilities from sight."

"LIGHTING IS IMPORTANT. Too . . . you can't relax in a bath or shower with glaring lights. I used indirect lighting over the sink, so there's plenty of light for a woman applying make-up but no glare when it's tub time."

There are marvelous new materials, too, for adding warmth and beauty to drab bathrooms. Stained, broken tile or peeling walls can be covered by Formica's Panel System 202 . . . a smooth moistureproof surface that goes right over old tile, walls, doors, storage units and lavatory areas.

It comes in a wide variety of beautiful colors and patterns . . . travertine marble, florals, wood patterns, and many others. The paneling won't chip, crack or stain . . . and it's a snap to keep looking clean and sparkling.

IF YOU'RE UNHAPPY with your white porcelain fixtures, they can become an asset if you use plenty of color around them. Motyka's bathroom is in soft beige travertine with the bamboo floor material in a rich chocolate brown.

The bath curtain introduces a companionable green-and-white jungle print . . . the white tub and sink are used as positive decorative accents amid the colors.

Motyka cautions the homemaker to be careful in her choice of bathroom color. "You see yourself in the bathroom mirror the first thing in the morning when you may not be looking your best . . . if the lighting is harsh and the wall colors unflattering, it's a depressing way to start the day. Choose soft, flattering colors and lights . . . and give yourself a little boost in the morning," he advises.

IF YOU PLAN TO redecorate, built-in storage space is a must. It's a real luxury to have shelves with fresh towels and a soap supply on hand. New Panel System 202 can enclose your wash basin and provide cupboards or drawers with storage space for personal effects.

Once your basic decorating is under control, there's the added fun of buying the little items that make a room so attractive. Bath shops offer exciting new accessories, from the most inexpensive to the most luxurious. Shower curtains are as beautiful as living-room drapes, towel racks go elegant, and a fluffy rug, fancy soap dishes, and decorative little soap jars add elegance.

If you're like most homemakers, you're getting bathroom-conscious right about now. Get with the bathroom-decorating boom . . . and have yours as lavishly luxurious as your purse permits.

The Way We See It

Is The Job Too Big?

It should be a cause of serious concern to Illinois officials that the state's residents spend a half-billion dollars annually in the pursuit of recreation outside of Illinois.

It should be, but to date it hasn't been, at least not to a depth serious enough for much to be done about it.

The traditional attitude has been to accept the stereotype that Illinois is not one of the great recreational states, and let it go at that.

But one of the enormous tragedies of this state is what it could be, if only there were a blend of public concern, aroused public servants and action.

And one of the things Illinois could be is a great recreational state. Instead, it is a traditional crossroads in more ways than transportation, for it is a state you pass through — or flee from — in the quest for recreation.

The economic potential alone should be enough to persuade the state's leaders to make recreation and tourist trade one of Illinois' priority goals.

If — as documented by the state's Department of Business and Economic Development — the state's residents are spending a half-billion dollars out of the state each year, how much more is the state losing in potential revenue from non-residents who could be lured to spend their dollars here?

Easily, it could be a billion dollar business. Reflect on what that could mean to a state suffering under a crushing and frustrating burden of fees and taxes, while still inadequately meeting its social and educational obligations.

The guilt has been twofold.

First, there are the things Illinois has tolerated, things that no recreational state worth the name should allow to exist.

Most publicized, and most severe, has been the indescribable defiling of the air and water of the state, in some areas so grossly polluted that it would be hypocrisy to invite anyone to enjoy it.

That pollution represents a pattern of permissiveness and shabbiness which has also allowed land to be so badly scarred by stripmining that it rivals the Badlands for desolation, and it is reflected in maintenance of state property that sometimes borders on the shoddy.

In these areas, the state has clearly abdicated its responsibility to its people, and has encouraged the phenomenon of both residents and non-residents whizzing through the state to Michigan, Wisconsin and points beyond.

The guilt is also in incredible lack of foresight, an inability to recognize what the state has to offer for recreation development.

Illinois is, despite slurs to the contrary, a state of some astonishing beauty, particularly the northwest portion around Galena and Mississippi Palisades, along the Illinois River, and in the rolling forested regions of the south.

But this quality is largely overlooked, as is the state's history as typified by not only Lincoln, but by Galena, Nauvoo, Shawneetown, the Indian country and even by Chicago.

The statistic that clearly underscores the lack is the bitter truth that Illinois ranks dead last among all states in the amount of recreational land set aside per population. By its own figures, the state is 952,000 acres behind the need. And nothing typifies the neglect more than the state's pathetic performance in setting aside things as elemental as roadside rest areas for travelers.

Nor does Illinois publicize what it does have. Other states dwarf this one in promoting their features with advertising and by distributing attractive and colorful brochures and pamphlets designed solely for luring tourist interest.

Are there any hopeful signs? Few, save perhaps the naming of William Rutherford as director of the Department of Conservation. He, at least, has publicly recognized the problem, and in the first few months of his tenure did spark the acquiring of more new state land than in the previous eight years.

The job ahead, if it is to be faced, is titanic, and demands priority attention from Rutherford, Gov. Richard Ogilvie, and Ray C. Dickerson, the new director of Business and Economic Development.

It requires first a recognition of the lack, and that Illinois — so rich in industry and agriculture — has an untapped boom in recreation.

Then must come a border-to-border scrutiny of the state, pinpointing those areas and regions that for their air, land, water, forests and history could beckon people from within and outside the state.

Then, the biggest job of all — rejuvenating what the state does own, trying to acquire that which it doesn't (or encouraging another body to do so), demanding an end to the pollution and the ravaging of the landscape, and finally telling the world about it.

We hope the job is not too big for Illinois.

Advice, editorials, complaints, columnists' opinions, letters to the editor—even helpful hints for headaches . . . these and many more features make up the complete variety package that is only in the newspaper.

Dr. Merrill F. Hartshorn, executive secretary of the council, says the newspaper, more than any other educational tool, has a major carryover into adult life.

"The involvement of citizens from all walks of life in the issues that confront our society is imperative if our democratic way of life is to survive and prosper," Dr. Hartshorn says.

"The schools can make a great contribution by fostering early involvement. And the newspaper provides one of the best ways to accomplish that objective."

A tryout test last January was administered to about 6,000 junior and senior high school students in 61 schools. For each newspaper class tested, the teacher and principal selected a control class or pre-test group.

Tourist Trade Drop-Out

Eye on Arlington

Track is Ours—What Now?

by JOAN KLUSSMANN

Arlington Park, racing mecca of the Midwest or that infernal nuisance — depending on your point of view — may soon be ours, all ours.

The recent announcement of a proposed annexation agreement between Arlington Heights and the park which will give us our own hotel, stables and race track sparked press conferences, TV coverage and banner headlines.

Reaction of many residents of other communities and summer visitors to our suburban paradise was different. They stared blankly at the news — everyone assumed it was here in the first place.

BUT THE fracas, roars and publicity about night racing during the past two years have made even recent residents of the village aware that the race track was outside village limits. When shouts of "do something" rang through village hall in late 1967, after the track announced its intention to race thoroughbreds under floodlights, board members reminded residents that the track was located in unincorporated Cook County, out of any direct control by the village.

Nevertheless, overwhelming audience disapproval at board meetings coupled with the lateness of the track's announcement of its intention prompted the board to oppose night racing at a hearing of the Illinois Racing Board in January, 1968. Admitting that her "timing was bad," Mrs. Marje Everett withdrew her petition and did not press for night hours.

In the fall of 1968, Arlington Park presented a petition to the state racing board requesting hours between noon and midnight.

IN NOVEMBER, amid loud resident applause, the board again voted to voice opposition to the petition as specific hours were not included. In a compromise move later in the month, the track requested racing sessions which would terminate at 7:30 p.m., paving the way to twilight racing every day if the track should so desire. It already followed a twilight schedule on Fridays.

This year floodlights were installed, the track unsuccessfully attempted twilight racing and the village announced the possible annexation. The agreement, when approved, will bring property and sales taxes to the village. For their part, trustees will not hotfoot it down to the Illinois Racing Board to oppose night racing hours.

A couple of weeks ago, I offered one of my best suggestions this year. It was the final solution to the mess over DiMucci, West Park and the apartments north of Golf Road.

If you remember, I suggested that a bunch of us get together and re-route 58 so nois Racing Board to oppose night racing hours.

Village Pres John Walsh, who has hammered out final details of the agreement since his election in April, is on the record in opposition to night racing hours. In January, 1968, he made the motion to oppose Arlington Park's request for night hours and in November of the same year again moved to object to the absence of specific hours on the track's request for 1969. Now he is the proud father of the annexation agreement.

However, Walsh's compromise on the hours is more like seeing the handwriting on the wall and a logical use of past trustee action on night racing.

EVEN WITHOUT annexation, the track would undoubtedly inch its way to night racing. Beset by drops in attendance and waning twilight hours didn't alleviate, the track would be forced to press

'Wasn't My Idea'

by JAMES VESELY

A couple of weeks ago, I offered one of my best suggestions this year. It was the final solution to the mess over DiMucci, West Park and the apartments north of Golf Road.

If you remember, I suggested that a bunch of us get together and re-route 58 so that DiMucci's property will be south of the road and everybody will be happy. Well, I take it all back.

Yesterday I got a letter from the State of Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, the Division of Highways.

"Dear Mr. Vesely," the letter begins. "We read with interest your July 22nd ar-ticled in The Herald regarding Illinois Route 58 signing.

"Your idea is rather unique and we will watch with added interest any midnight attempts to re-sign this route."

THE LETTER IS signed by G. T. March, district engineer, and C. H. McLean, Assistant District Engineer of Operations.

Hey, Mr. March and Mr. McLean, I was only kidding. Why, I would no more want to re-route your road than I would want to cause any trouble with the State of Illinois.

I am a peaceful citizen and a tribute to my parents who raised me. I don't want any trouble. In fact, because the heat is on me, I am now forced to disclose whose idea it really was to re-route 58.

It was Governor Richard Ogilvie's idea. IT ALL STARTED last October when Ogilvie was running for his present office. I was watching him shake hands with people in front of the Jewel store in Wheeling and I asked him what he thought of the roads out here.

Ogilvie shook his head sadly. "Won't that Route 58 ever be completed?" he asked. "Why don't they just re-route it?"

So you see, Mr. March and Mr. McLean, it's really not my idea at all.

I have taken the liberty of forwarding your letter to the Governor. I am sure you will hear from him in a few days.

Learn Anything in the Papers? Students Do

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Was Will Rogers only kidding or was he speaking for a lot of people when he declared:

"All I know is what I read in the papers."

Maybe you ought to get the answer from one of the three million students in 17,600 schools nationwide who sometimes hit the newspapers in class just as diligently as they hit the books.

Teachers use the newspaper — copies supplied by 322 publishers — as a teaching tool in English, social studies, remedial reading classes. Gifted and slow learners participate.

The National Education Association (NEA) says the trend toward newspapers in class will get a real impetus in September when a new test to measure competence in reading daily newspapers is put into use in many junior and senior high schools. The testing project is being carried out by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J., for the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) and the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS).

Statistics Show Why Palatine Soared to Top

Palatine won the District Nine American Legion pennant, the District Nine playoffs and was the only area team to advance to the Cook County tournament. The reason why is supported by the statistics.

Post 690 had a record of 16-6 and in those 22 games Palatine:
Outscored opponents 88 to 45.
Outhit opponents 145 to 99.
Hit better than opponents .235 to .170.
Walked more than opponents 85 to 60.
Struck out less than opponents 87 to 138.
NOT ONLY THAT, but Palatine stole more bases, had more doubles, more triples and more home runs than opponents could manage against Post 690.

Other teams, such as Des Plaines, had a

John Dempster, who was sidelined with a sore elbow for much of the season, was 1-0 and his only win came in the Cook County tourney. Others who saw action and were quite effective on the mound were Don Wickersham, Steve Hearn and Larry Anderson.

Al Bambrick, the smooth swinging left-handed batter, led the team with a robust .354 batting average. Included in his 23 hits were five doubles and two triples. Bambrick led the team (and was ranked among the best in the league) with 18 runs batted in. He was second in runs scored with 15. Bambrick played left field.

FIRST BASEMAN Larry Anderson, who had the hottest bat at the end of the campaign, ended up with a .333 batting mark. Said one opposing coach, "He made a lot of good plays at first base. He saved more than one game for them." Anderson knocked out seven doubles among his 29 hits.

Ernie Purcell, who was mostly not in for his outstanding defensive work behind the plate, showed that he could handle the bat as well. Purcell was third on the team with a .317 average. He cracked out 19 hits and drove in nine runs.

Steve Hearn, the power hitter on the club, exploded for three triples and two homers among his 12 hits for a .261 batting mark. Hearn's two homers each won games. He played right field and some at first base.

GERRY GRYBASH, the transplanted catcher, did a tremendous job at shortstop, a position that was foreign to him until the season started. Grybash led the team in runs scored with 19 and he hit .240. Grybash committed only three errors in 22 games at shortstop.

Grybash's partner around the second base sack was Pete Clark. Clark hit .200 and scored 10 runs. His home run against Logan Square netted Post 690 a victory.

Hasbach hit .152 and belted an important home run against Arlington Heights when the District Nine pennant race was still hot.

DON WICKERSHAM hit only .182 but his hits came in the clutch. His hits won the District Nine playoff and the only win Palatine gathered in the Cook County tournament. He was a dandy in center field.

Scott Smith drove out nine hits but one-third of them went for extra bases. Ken Stinson was the team's utility man and played extremely well in the Cook County tournament at second base when Clark was absent.

The statistics bear out why Palatine had the best team in the area. But there was certainly much more than that.

It was a good team effort, when one player had an off-day another was right there to pick up the slack. When the hitters couldn't meet the ball, the pitchers were excellent. And when the pitchers were getting knocked around, the hitters came to life.

comp DEFENSIVELY, Palatine went games at a time without making an error. The squad was one of the best around in completing the double play.

Directing Post 690 through one of its best seasons ever was a rookie coach, Bob Grybash. Grybash, who had never coached any team at any level before, did a remarkable job and any fan in the stands would find it hard to tell that he was, indeed, coaching his very first team . . . a darn good team.

Scrimmage Lines

by LARRY MLYNCZAK

MANY OF US were watching television when Neil Armstrong stepped down on the moon. And many of us were listening to the account given by Huntley and Brinkley, Walter Cronkite and Frank Reynolds.

But how would this historic event have been called by sports broadcasters? How would they have put to use their distinct styles to call the big play?

DIZZY DEAN
(former CBS sportscaster)

"Howdy, sports fans, this is ol' Diz with his sidekick Walter Cronkite and we're heah callin' the play for the fust step on the moon.

"Any tame now a good ol' fren o' mine, Neil Armstrong, as his kin calls 'im, will be steppin' down that ladder to git to the moon. Me and brother Paul, we once had a ladder, too, back down in Arkansas. Here's he cum, folks, it looks like he's gonna make the play. He's a-suddin' down the ladder and he's gonna be safe by a mile."

DON DUNPHY
(who called the TV fights)

"This is Don Dunphy at ringside calling the blow-by-blow of this tremendous event here at the arena.

"The unbeaten champion in the gray trunks, weighing in at six billion, nine million, eight-hundred thousand pounds from the far out space — The Moon. The Moon!

"The challenger has stepped in to the ring, weighing in at 166 pounds in the white trunks — Neil Armstrong. Armstrong!

"There's the bell, and Armstrong takes the first step toward the middle of the ring. That Armstrong has some footwork."

MEL PARNELL
(TV voice of Sox)

"Hello, hello everybody this is Mel Parnell along with Jack Drees and we're going to call the action as Neil Armstrong makes his historic step on the moon he's coming down the ladder now is he coming down the ladder yes he's coming down the ladder he's making that first step on the ladder could he be making the second step yes there it is the second step and he's going to continue his way down the ladder and at any minute at any minute he's going to step on the moon yes the moon here he comes is that going to be the big step on the moon yes it is there's the big play we've all been waiting for."

PAUL CHRISTMAN
(football "expert" of CBS)

"For the benefit of our fans we will run an instant replay of that play that Armstrong made coming down on the moon. Many of you were probably watching the step he took but you experienced fans were watching that other foot. Notice how he kept his balance with the other foot. That was a play made by a real veteran. His right hand seemed to be slipping a little but he still made the play. He might have caught the defense in a tranquility mood. The situation now stands one foot down and one to go. On the next play my prediction is that he'll put his other foot down on the moon."

LOU SAALM
(voice of the Phillies)

"There it is! Neeeee ARM — STRONG!"

LOU BOUDREAU
(radio voice of Cubs)

"In this reporter's opinion, Neil, now that's spelled N-E-I-L, fans, not N-E-E-L, fans, Armstrong he'll be coming down the ladder. Now I don't mean he'll be coming down. I mean he is way up there on the moon. But he will be coming down. Not down to Earth, I mean. But he will be coming down. He's going to take a step down the ladder but it's not the kind of step that you fans take all the time because his foot is stepping down not out like when we walk. But he's stepping down like you fans do, not like you fans do when you walk, but down. Down. Soon he will be taking a step like you fans walk but he will not step down when he walks he will be stepping like . . ."

VINCE LLOYD
(other voice of Cubs)

"You're so right, Lou."

MEL ALLEN
(former voice of Yankees)

"Hello, everybody, this is Mel Allen. I'll be here from the beginning to the end and I will call the play to you when Neil Armstrong steps down on the moon. Now I remember back in 1951 when Joe DiMaggio he stepped down. That was quite an occasion. I was in Casey Stengel's office and . . ."

JACK BRICKHOUSE
(TV voice of Cubs)

"Hey, hey! Neily Atta way ta go! Whew boy!"

The Logan Square Lions tuned up for this week's season-ending trip to Canada with two wins in three battles last week.

They journeyed to Chicago Wednesday and found foreign territory to their liking, blasting three home runs and pounding Lane Tech, 12-3. Brian Rooney picked up the victory, going all the way and firing a five-hitter.

Rooney's only troublesome innings were the first and second. He gave up two runs in the first on a triple, walk, and double and another in the second on another triple after an error.

HOWEVER, BY the time those runs were scored, the Lions had already jumped to a comfortable lead on some fireworks of their own. And after the second Rooney was himself, allowing only two more harmless singles.

The Lions jumped on the hosts immediately with five runs in the top of the first. Mike O'Donnell led off the game with a triple and scored after Steve Smith walked and Mike Abinanti singled. After the next two batters made outs, Bill Madden singled and Mike Pettenuzzo capped the explosion with a home run.

The Lions stretched their lead to 7-3 in the second when O'Donnell started another rally with one out. He rapped a single, Smith walked again, both advanced on a groundout, and Rooney drove in two tallies with a base hit.

Single runs were added in the third and fourth when Madden and Abinanti each rifled solo home runs. An error and Jim Kenny's double accounted for a run in the sixth, and the final two romped in in the

THE WEEK'S lone loss came Tuesday when Logan Square hosted Rockford and fell, 5-3. Pettenuzzo started this one with Rooney relieving.

Rockford scored first in the second on a triple and single, but the Lions came back in the fourth to take a 3-1 lead. All four of the errors Rockford committed came in that frame, and until the seventh inning it appeared they would be decisive.

The trio of runs resulted when Mike Golden, Jim Kenny, and Mike Pettenuzzo put together successive singles, Hynes and Bill O'Donnell both reached on errors, and Mike O'Donnell singled.

THE LEAD stood up until the final inning, when Rockford erupted for four runs on only one hit for the comeback win. The Lions committed three errors of their own in that inning, handing the visitors the win even though Rockford was outbait by the Lions, 9-6.

Rockford 010 000 4-5-6-4
Lions 000 300 0-3-9-5

The Lions had begun the week with a 6-3 win over Cincinnati of Chicago Monday at St. Viator.

Mike O'Donnell, a lefty who hasn't seen much action on the mound this summer but who possesses a rifle arm as regular first baseman, went the distance for the win. He allowed six hits, struck out six and walked five.

Logan Square bunched all six of their runs in the third and did not start the explosion until two were out with no one on.

Bill Madden and Mike Golden walked and advanced on a wild pitch. Both scored on Jim Kenny's single. When Kenny's hit was misplayed, he went to third and then scored on Mike Abinanti's single. Jim Hynes also rapped a base hit and Abinanti came all the way around on another out-field miscue, Hynes going to second. After John Keller walked and Bill O'Donnell beat out an infield hit, Keller scored the final tally on an error.

The Lions were scheduled to play at Wilmette Thursday, but managed only to get in a practice game when not enough players showed up. Friday and Saturday were open dates as Larry Nomellini's charges rested for their trek to the north.

Musial 'Speaks Up'

ST. LOUIS UPI — Stan Musial is one of the leaders in the "Speak Up for America" essay contest for high school students in a 10-county area in Missouri. Musial, former St. Louis Cardinal great and a Hall of Famer, said he became involved in the essay contest because it "provides an opportunity not only to tell what's right with America, but also to offer constructive suggestions on ways that the democratic processes of our system of government can be improved."

Mount Prospect Top Swim Finisher

Four area teams competed in the National conference swimming championships at Barrington last week, won by Park Ridge.

Mount Prospect was the highest local entry, taking fifth with 159½ points. Arlington Heights was next with 150, Rolling Meadows finished seventh with 94 and Prospect Heights compiled 91½ for eighth.

Northbrook was expected to take the title but came in second with 332 points. Park Ridge's winning total was 357. Glenview finished third and Barrington fourth.

Top Hoopster, Too

NEW YORK UPI — Bud Harrelson, shortstop for the New York Mets, was adept enough as a basketball player to earn a court scholarship at San Francisco State. Harrelson left school to join the Mets organization after his freshman year.

Whoops!

TOKYO UPI — Women running in the 200-meter dash in the annual Kyushu summer track and field meet were establishing new records in each preliminary heat. Judges called a halt and remeasured the distance. It was 190 meters.

Arlington Heights' 15-and-over boys medley relay team took first place as Eric Lindblad, Jim Young, Fred Schmidt, and Kurt Thompson were clocked in 1:48.4 to easily win the event.

Two of Arlington's most prolific point-getters were Marsha Kaipus and Kathy Dalton, who collected four firsts, two seconds, and a relay win. Miss Kaipus was a three-time winner, taking the 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, and 100 individual medley, all in the 15-and-over division. Miss Dalton won the 100 breaststroke, took second in the 50 fly, and was also second in the 100 individual medley.

Marsha and Kathy joined Terry Horwath and Sandy Gabler on the winning relay team.

Brad Busse was a double winner for Mount Prospect, taking first in the 9 and 10 50 freestyle and 50 breaststroke by a wide margin. Chris Crouch of Rolling Meadows was second in the breaststroke.

John Eliot of Prospect Heights won the 8-and-under boys 25 backstroke. Other firsts went to Sue Enander in the 9 and 10 girls 50 back and Brian Rafferty in the 8-and-under boys 25 butterfly.

Tom Stahnke was also a winner for Rolling Meadows in the 9 and 10 boys 25 butterfly. Sandy Gabler was a close second in the 13 and 14 girls 50 fly.

Other firsts for area performers were: Jena Allen of Mount Prospect, 11 and 12 girls 50 back; Sue Stahnke, Rolling Meadows, 13 and 14 girls 50 breast; and the boys 11 and 12 200 free relay team of Paul Sigfusson, Dave Larsen, Craig Bruce, and Doug Schlak.

Board Sees Master Plan

"RUMPELTILTSKIN," the story of a mean little dwarf who performs evil magic on a beautiful princess came alive Thursday at Vogel Park in Hoffman Estates. Straw was spun to gold before children's eyes when the St. James-

Christie School of Performing Arts, Riverside, dramatized this beloved children's fairy tale. The performance was sponsored by the Hoffman Estates Park District.

The current Hoffman Estates administration got its first chance to discuss a master plan developed for the village by Tec-Search, a city planning consultant firm, last night.

At the request of the village board, Roth Campbell, a firm representative, appeared to answer questions.

Tec-Search was hired in 1965 to create the master plan. After long delays in the formulation of the plan, it was finally presented to the former village board last March.

Campbell said yesterday that the former trustees had not given any reasons for not approving the plan at the time, but said they might have had some revisions in mind.

HOWARD "JACK" NOBEL, a current trustee and member of the previous village board, said yesterday, "This thing had been delayed and delayed and delayed so long that the old board got tired of it and didn't get around to doing anything with it."

Nobel said he didn't know what the discussion, which occurred last night after Herald headlines, would involve. "I don't even think they (newer trustees on the board) do either," he said.

Campbell also said he did not have anything special prepared for last night's meeting.

The plan has been printed and is ready to go to public hearings if the board will approve it, Campbell said.

After board approval, the village must hold a public hearing so residents can voice their opinions on future development.

A master plan serves as notice to residents and developers, listing official village ideas on how the area should be developed, James Kopp, plan commission chairman, said yesterday.

ONCE THE PLAN is declared official and filed with the county, the village has control of subdivision development within 1 1/2 miles of the corporate limits of the village, Kopp said.

The plan commission has been reviewing the plan as presented last spring and was present last night to discuss it with Campbell.

Kopp said he expects to start holding public hearings on the plan within the next two months.

Tec-Search is being paid with funds partially provided by the federal government on a joint agreement with the park district and village board.

The plan outlines goals and policies for growth and development of the village and includes municipal services, transportation, educational, religious and cultural facilities, parks and recreation, commercial and industrial development and housing and residential neighborhoods.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SARON — U.S. military sources said, in the light of enemy troop movements, they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

Pitner Looks for 20,000 Jobs

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved."

Push for Planning — Again

A village master plan, often talked about but little acted on in recent years, was again a topic of discussion at Thursday's Hanover Park meeting.

The Rev. David Bugh, a trustee, suggested that the village "immediately contact professional planners regarding a master plan for the village and update all codes." The plan, Bugh said, should cover building and zoning considerations both in side and outside the village boundaries.

Pres. Richard Baker said planners have investigated Hanover Park previously. Bugh said he was aware that this was done last year, but that no action was taken. "I'd like to see something definite done," Bugh added.

When Baker ran for president last spring, a master plan was the key platform in his People's Own Party (POP). He commented at that time that progress would not come to the community without

Warrant Is Accepted

A warrant was accepted by the Hanover Park Village Board Thursday night, giving a list of all bills approved for payment and to be paid as they become due and funds available.

Trustee Barry Rogers reported that a finished budget for the year will be available at the next meeting, Aug. 21.

But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

It seemed for a short time last year, however, that the village was ready to begin on a comprehensive plan. It was to cost $20,000 and take at least 18 months to complete. The plan commission, however, recommended over a year ago that the village board accept the Harland-Bartholomew proposal.

AT ONE TIME last year, the village actually agreed to hire the company. However, voting on the $20,000 contract was repeatedly delayed. Finally, considering that the village could expend only in one direction — to the south — the board decided that the $20,000 price tag was too high.

No mention of a price was made when the subject was brought up again Thursday night. Trustee James M. Scheuber said, "I think we should bring in a planner and start again" and Baker and the rest of the board agreed.

Baker said Harland Bartholomew and Associates would again be called to investigate.

THE VILLAGE IS NOW essentially divided into east and west with Barrington

Office Promised

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R-Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, answering Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weathersfield Commons, Golf-Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hoffman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Bicycle Safety Program Slated

The annual Bicycle Safety Program conducted by the Schaumburg Police Department will be held Aug. 23 at 10 a.m. in the Weathersfield Commons Shopping Center, Schaumburg and Springguth roads.

The program is designed to make bicycle riders more safety conscious. All bicycles and their riders will be tested.

THE PROGRAM will be conducted by Officer Hy Yeargin of the Schaumburg Police Department with the cooperation of the Schaumburg Woman's Club and members of the Civil Defense, jointly with the Cook County Bicycle Safety Club.

Refreshments will be served. Chief Martin J. Conroy stresses that parents should cooperate by having their children become safe bicycle riders.

JOHN O'DELL, 35, of 145 Plum Grove Road is the new administrative assistant to Dist. 211 Supt. G. A. McElroy.

O'Dell Views Job

As the new administrative assistant to the superintendent for High School Dist. 211, John O'Dell feels computing statistics, improving community relations and personnel are the main aspects of his position.

O'Dell joined the administrative staff Aug. 1. He replaces Thomas Maguire, who left the district July 1 after 12 years to become research associate in the Midwest Administration Center of the University of Chicago.

The new assistant is completing requirements for a PhD in school administration from Indiana University. He received a bachelor of science in education from Eastern Illinois University in 1956 and a master of science degree from there in 1961.

"We are hoping to begin an information program focusing on curriculum," O'Dell said. "People should know what their schools are doing."

O'DELL HAS BEEN a high school science teacher at Cahokia High School in southern Illinois. He was also assistant principal of Charleston High School before coming to Dist. 211. Last year he had a research assistantship at Indiana University working on school financing.

"I plan to work with statistics on teachers, students, enrollment, anything which will help explain the system here," O'Dell said. "With the growth problem in this area, I'll keep track of what we will need in the future as much as possible."

O'Dell and his wife, Marilee, live at 145 Plum Grove Road, Palatine. They have three children, Laura, 7, Patty, 6, and Christie, 5, who will be in elementary school this fall.

Sewer Contracts Considered

The engineering committee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) board of trustees is to meet today to consider $6 million in contracts for northwest suburban sewers.

Communities that would primarily benefit from the proposed 6½ miles of interceptor sewers are Palatine, Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The MSD board is to decide Aug. 28 on any recommendations coming from the engineering committee's meeting. The proposed northwest suburban projects are part of $14 million the MSD is assured in construction funds. Southwest Cook County is getting about $8 million in interceptors in the same proposal.

TWO PROJECTS, broken down into four construction contracts are involved. Two contracts will extend an interceptor sewer northwest along Algonquin Road and serve the communities of Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Palatine and South Barrington.

Two other contracts will serve Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township.

Forrest Neil, MSD acting chief engineer, said Monday the Wheeling Township projects will keep the MSD's commitment with the Prospect Heights Old Town Sanitary District to provide sewer service by 1970.

TRUSTEE E. GEORGE THEIM, chairman of the engineering committee, explained the projects were a recommendation from Gen. Supt. Vinton Bacon and the engineering staff. When first presented, the board felt it did not have enough information to act on the recommendation, Theim explained.

Theim said the sewers will be installed to take the load off the existing interceptors. The northwest suburbs is served by the North Side Sewage Treatment plant and increased development has caused an overload of these interceptors, especially during rain.

The new interceptors will tie into the Salt Creek and O'Hare water reclamation plants when these sewage treatment facilities are constructed, Theim said.

"WE PLAN TO COME up with recommendations to present the board Aug. 28," Theim said. "It's likely we will then officially authorize the advertising for putting the projects to bid."

Robert G. Currie, MSD engineer for sewer design, said the line serving Schaumburg and Palatine would extend from an existing interceptor along Algonquin Road which dead ends 600 feet southeast of Plum Grove Road. The line would extend northwest along Algonquin Road about 10,550 feet to a point 2,900 feet northwest of Roselle Road.

THIS CONTRACT PORTION would call for 425 calendar construction days and has a preliminary cost estimate of $1 million. A second contract would pick up and extend the interceptor along Algonquin Road 5,220 feet to a proposed new street in Hoffman Estates. Preliminary cost estimate of this contract is $1,200,000 and construction would be 350 calendar days.

These sewers would range in size from 33 inches to five feet in diameter.

In Wheeling Township, one project would extend an existing interceptor at the intersection of Wolf and Camp McDonald roads. The line would go west along Camp McDonald approximately 5,424 feet to Wheeling Road, north along Wheeling Road about 2,717 feet to Willow Road, and west along Willow Road about 1,000 feet to Hillside Avenue.

CURRIE SAID THIS contract is estimated at $2 million and would take 310 calendar days in construction.

Another contract would pick up at Hillside and Willow Road and extend the interceptor 935 feet west on Willow Road to Maple St., north along Maple St. 1,325 feet to Kenilworth Ave., west along Kenilworth Ave. 4,600 feet to Dale Ave., south along Dale Ave. 1,350 feet to Willow Road, then west along Willow Road 1,315 feet to its termination at Willow Road and Waterman Ave.

This contract has a preliminary cost estimate of $1,700,000 and calls for 550 calendar construction days. Currie said interceptors range in size from 42 inches to five feet in diameter, the engineer said.

CURRIE SAID BIDS will probably be advertised in September and contracts awarded in October for all projects. The MSD board is waiting for Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's signature on a bill giving the district authority to issue $300 million in non-referendum construction bonds.

Should the governor not sign the MSD's bill, a tax levy could still bring in the $1 million for construction, Theim said.

Zone Block Fails

Richard Goggin, representing residents in the "old section" of Hanover Park, tried to no avail at Thursday's Hanover Park village board meeting to insure prevention of zoning changes in lots in block four of the village in the Grant's Highway subdivision.

Goggin presented signatures, all from homeowners in or adjacent to these lots, requesting that the board make specific zoning laws preventing these lots from being subdivided further. His petition was not official, but merely a request.

Village Atty. William Davies replied that the village has no authority to arbitrarily make any zoning changes without due process of law.

The minimum lot size now is 110 by 297 feet. Goggin and those who signed the petition would like to keep that minimum from changing, but Davies said this is impossible.

"IF IT WAS PART of a master plan it would be feasible," Davies explained, "but not at this time. I can understand that rezoning is distasteful to some residents, but we cannot arbitrarily change any zoning."

Goggin asked, "Do you mean there can't be different lot sizes provided for by zoning laws in different parts of town?"

Davies replied, "Yes, but not after the fact, which is what you're asking. I will look up everything I can on this matter and report it to you in two weeks."

It was also reported that multiple-family dwellings are to be constructed on Elm Street in the Grant's Highway subdivision. The planning and zoning commission will hold a hearing on this matter. Village Pres. Richard Baker said, "The village has complete control on this matter" — unlike subdividing of the lots in block four.

Take Trip: Get Free Cub Power Tee Shirts

The first 135 children registering for the Hanover Park Park District's trip to Wrigley Field Aug. 21 will receive "Cub Power" tee shirts free.

The shirts were a $200 donation of a local business, according to Mayor Richard Baker. The front of the shirts will read "Cub Power" and the back will read "Hanover Park Park District."

The trip will cost each child $1.50. Registration will be taken at Anne Fox or Hanover Highlands schools, or Ahlstrand Fieldhouse. Longmeadows Center will also be open for registration Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 2 to 4 p.m.

This will be the last park district sponsored field trip of the summer.

ON THE FOLLOWING day, Aug. 22, the park district will have its 4th annual Olympic Day at Ahlstrand Fieldhouse. Winners in various field events will receive awards.

A juke box has been placed inside Ahlstrand Fieldhouse and other vending machines will soon be put in. Ahlstrand is open every Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 10 p.m. for teens. Two supervisors, both police officers, have been hired.

The park district will purchase five new footballs at a cost of $60 for the additional flag football team that will play in the fall. Rip flags and multi-game timers will also be purchased at a cost of $70.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1968-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

NEW SWIMMING POOL will be built on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road in Prospect Heights if voters approve River Trails Park District bond issue referendum Aug. 23. Amount of the bond issue is $475,000. If built, the pool would be able to accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people. Present plans call for a deep water area running the entire length of the pool.

Pool Vote Explanation To Residents

Residents of River Trails Park District will receive a brochure this week explaining the forthcoming bond referendum for a swimming pool, said Park Director, Marvin Weiss.

On Aug. 23, district voters will decide on the $475,000 bond issue to cover costs of the proposed pool, bathhouse, lighting, parking area and development of some of the surrounding grounds.

The average increase in the park district's portion of next year's real estate taxes would be about $3 per home if the referendum passes, Weiss said.

Weiss explained that the pool could be ready next summer because plans for the pool have already been approved. Construction could begin immediately if the referendum passes.

"BESIDES REGULAR swimming, the pool would have swim lessons, life saving instruction, synchronized swimming, swimming teams, and special separate nights for adults and teens. The bathhouse will also be heated and used as a skating shelter in the winter and for other indoor activities as well."

The proposed pool, to be located in the Woodland Trails Park on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road, could accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people, said Weiss. "It will be adequate for the future growth of the park district," he added.

Sewer Contracts Considered

The engineering committee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) board of trustees is to meet today to consider $6 million in contracts for northwest suburban sewers.

Communities that would primarily benefit from the proposed 6 1/2 miles of interceptor sewers are Palatine, Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The MSD board is to decide Aug. 28 on any recommendations coming from the engineering committee's meeting. The proposed northwest suburban projects are part of $14 million the MSD is assured in construction funds. Southwest Cook County is getting about $8 million in interceptors in the same proposal.

TWO PROJECTS, broken down into four construction contracts are involved. Two contracts will extend an interceptor sewer northwest along Algonquin Road and serve the communities of Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Palatine and South Barrington. Two other contracts will serve Prospect

He Looks for 20,000 Jobs

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 28, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Accidents Hurt 2 Over Weekend

Two Wheeling boys were injured last weekend in separate accidents.

Ricky Taylor, 9, of 305 Edgewood, was in fair condition Monday at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Ricky suffered a broken pelvis from an accident Sunday afternoon when he was struck by a car while crossing Milwaukee Avenue just south of Mayer Avenue.

Wheeling police have charged Randall M. Maday, 18, of Cincinnati, Ohio with failure to reduce speed to avoid collision in connection with the accident. Maday will appear Aug. 26 in Arlington Heights District Court.

IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT on Friday noon, Gregory Leo, 5, of 1321 Anthony Road, was knocked from his bicycle on the east side of Schoenbeck Road, 200 feet south of Dundee Road. His bike was struck by a car driven by Robert F. Moszkiewicz, 22, of Apt. 123, 1421 S. Wolf Road.

Moszkiewicz was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision and will appear in Arlington Heights District Court Oct. 14.

Gregory was treated and released from Holy Family Hospital for minor injuries.

"Bowl-in" Aug. 17

Achim Lodge B'nai B'rith of Buffalo Grove will sponsor a "bowl-in" beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Buffalo Grove Rose Bowl.

Free bowling, shoe rental and coffee will be available.

The "bowl-in" is also the time of the final sign-up for the lodge's new bowling league. The league will start Oct. 5. Game averages for the league will be determined at the "bowl-in" according to Dave Gran of Arlington Heights, the lodge's athletic chairman.

Aid Plan Grows

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 82 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 28.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

Gornick Gets Robbery Charge

Mount Prospect police said Sunday they will charge James Gornick, 33, of 449 Baldwin Road, Palatine, with armed robbery in the July 7 stick-up of Walt Boyle's Novelty Store.

Gornick was charged Saturday with the weekend robbery of the First National Bank of Dundee in which he escaped with $8,834 in cash.

The robber, according to witnesses, wielded a flower box containing a shotgun. A similar pattern was followed in the novelty shop hold-up, and the same thing occurred in the $800 robbery at Hillman's Food Store.

Police said Gornick was positively identified as the same man who held up the novelty store. They said they will obtain a warrant today charging him with the robbery.

They said they haven't questioned those persons involved in the food store robbery and have not determined whether the same man robbed the store.

The Hillman's robbery occurred on July 17. In each incident the gunman escaped from the scene, eluding capture by store employees and police.

WORKMAN PUTS THE finishing touches on the new Henry Wadsworth Longfellow School, scheduled to open this fall in Dist. 21. Approximately 500 students will be enrolled in kindergarten through grade seven at the school, 501 N. Arlington Heights Road, Buffalo Grove.

Jubilee Begins Monday

Registration for a variety of Wheeling Diamond Jubilee athletic events begins this week. Entries are due Friday for an open tennis tournament at Wheeling High School Aug. 18-22.

Teens and adults will compete in the evening and children will compete during the day. Trophies will be awarded to each division winner. Entry blanks are available at the Heritage Park Building, 222 S. Wolf Road.

For swimming enthusiasts competition in a Diamond Jubilee Swimming Meet will begin at 5 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 21. Boys and girls will compete in separate age groups. Diving competition will be split between those 12 and under and those 13 and older.

ALSO ON AUG. 21, Jubilee "youth day" will begin at 1 p.m. at Heritage Park. Bicycle races, tug-of-war, softball games, and skill contests will be featured.

For the older crowd, a "men's fun and games day" will be held Saturday, Aug. 23 at 10 a.m. at Heritage Park. Horseshoe pitching contests with "no ringers allowed," a tug of war between residents from the east and west sides of town, and softball games will be climaxed by mass applications of liniment following the con-

THE LAW TOUCHES ALL: Buffalo Grove Trustee Kenneth Felten reported he got a ticket July 31 for parking in the Ranch Mart Shopping Center. He paid the $5 fine.

THE ESTABLISHMENT STRIKES BACK: Gerry De Boer, of 94, Pebble Drive, Wheeling, reported to police that someone had stolen the "hippie flowers" from her Volkswagen.

UNHEALTHY INFLUENCE? John Peters, new director of pupil personnel services for Dist. 21, landed in the hospital with a perforated ulcer. He had only been on the job one week. "So that's the sort of effect working in this district has on people!" joked Supt. Kenneth Gill.

WHEELING'S plan commission recently decided not to participate in the Diamond Jubilee Spectacular as a group. "The plan commission doesn't want to make a spectacle of itself," Trustee Michael Valenza said.

THERE WAS SMOKE but there wasn't any fire. Wheeling firemen answered a report of smoke coming from the Diamond Jubilee Headquarters last weekend but discovered only a faulty electrical connection, no fire.

SCRATCH THE ITCH — Buffalo Grove trustees recently got sidetracked onto a discussion of DDT and the mosquito problem. Trustee Allan Thorud cut off discussion when he noted, "There's no malaria yet."

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R-Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, answering Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weatherfield Commons, Golf-Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hoffman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

The Lighter Side The Smooth Sell

by DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago, a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the "principles and techniques" of selling could, with slight modification, "just as easily be applied" to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty ruminations was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Scorianship." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

I have an ingrown suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

Rev. Knauss Is Pastor

The Rev. Keith E. Knauss has been named pastor of the Prospect Heights Baptist Church.

Rev. Knauss will assume his duties on Sept. 1. He served as pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Ottumwa, Iowa for 13 years. That church's congregation increased from 40 to 350 members during his ministry. Mr. Knauss also directed four building programs at that church.

HIS EDUCATIONAL background includes a bachelor of theology degree from Practical Bible Training School, a bachelor of arts degree from Vennard College, and master's and doctor's of theology degrees from Burton College and Seminary. He has written six books.

Mr. Knauss and his wife, Nellie, have three daughters.

By coincidence, however, it happened to arrive at time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used transferred them to a used car lot.

Customer: How about this 1962 station wagon over here? Is it in pretty good condition?

To illustrate the point, I have taken a few lines from "Romeo and Juliet" and car sales.

Salesman: "One fairer than my love, the all-seeing sun never saw her match since first the world's begun. She hangs upon the cheek of night like a rich jewel. Her beauty makes this value a feasting presence full of light."

Customer: How about the price?

Salesman: "A beggarly account of empty boxes."

Customer: Actually I was looking for a smaller car. How about that compact over there?

Salesman: "She comes in shape no bigger than an agate stone on the forefinger of an alderman."

Customer: But those little cars are usually sluggish. Will this one run good?

Salesman: "Like the lightning. Ten times faster glide than the sun's beams."

Customer: What kind of guarantee will you give me?

Salesman: "By yonder blessed moon I swear, that tips with silver all these fruit-

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisements from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SAIGON — U.S. military sources said, in the light of enemy troop movements, they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

NEW SWIMMING POOL will be built on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road in Prospect Heights if voters approve River Trails Park District bond issue referendum Aug. 23. Amount of the bond issue is $475,000. If built, the pool would be able to accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people. Present plans call for a deep water area running the entire length of the pool.

Pool Vote Explanation To Residents

Residents of River Trails Park District will receive a brochure this week explaining the forthcoming bond referendum for a swimming pool, said Park Director, Marvin Weiss.

On Aug. 23, district voters will decide on the $475,000 bond issue to cover costs of the proposed pool, bathhouse, lighting, parking area and development of some of the surrounding grounds.

The average increase in the park district's portion of next year's real estate taxes would be about $3 per home if the referendum passes, Weiss said.

Weiss explained that the pool could be ready next summer because plans for the pool have already been approved. Construction could begin immediately if the referendum passes.

"BESIDES REGULAR swimming, the pool would have swim lessons, life saving instruction, synchronized swimming, swimming teams, and special separate nights for adults and teens. The bathhouse will also be heated and used as a skating shelter in the winter and for other indoor activities as well."

The proposed pool, to be located in the Woodland Trails Park on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road, could accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people, said Weiss. "It will be adequate for the future growth of the park district," he added.

Sewer Contracts Considered

The engineering committee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) board of trustees is to meet today to consider $8 million in contracts for northwest suburban sewers.

Communities that would primarily benefit from the proposed 6 1/2 miles of interceptor sewers are Palatine, Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The MSD board is to decide Aug. 28 on any recommendations coming from the engineering committee's meeting. The proposed northwest suburban projects are part of $14 million the MSD is assured in construction funds. Southwest Cook County is getting about $8 million in interceptors in the same proposal.

TWO PROJECTS, broken down into four construction contracts are involved. Two contracts will extend an interceptor sewer northwest along Algonquin Road and serve the communities of Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Palatine and South Barrington. Two other contracts will serve Prospect

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Accidents Hurt 2 Over Weekend

Two Wheeling boys were injured last weekend in separate accidents.

Ricky Taylor, 9, of 305 Edgewood, was in fair condition Monday at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Ricky suffered a broken pelvis from an accident Sunday afternoon when he was struck by a car while crossing Milwaukee Avenue just south of Mayer Avenue.

Wheeling police have charged Randall M. Maday, 18, of Cincinnati, Ohio with failure to reduce speed to avoid collision in connection with the accident. Maday will appear Aug. 26 in Arlington Heights District Court.

IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT at Friday noon, Gregory Leo, 5, of 1321 Anthony Road, was knocked from his bicycle on the east side of Schoenbeck Road, 200 feet south of Dundee Road. His bike was struck by a car driven by Robert F. Moszkiewicz, 22, of Apt. 123, 1421 S. Wolf Road.

Moszkiewicz was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision and will appear in Arlington Heights District Court Oct. 14.

Gregory was treated and released from Holy Family Hospital for minor injuries.

"Bowl-in" Aug. 17

Achim Lodge B'Nai B'rith of Buffalo Grove will sponsor a "bowl-in" beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Buffalo Grove Rose Bowl.

Free bowling, shoe rental and coffee will be available.

The "bowl-in" is also the time of the final sign-up for the lodge's new bowling league. The league will start Oct. 5. Game averages for the league will be determined at the "bowl-in" according to Dave Gran of Arlington Heights, the lodge's athletic chairman.

Aid Plan Grows

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1966-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 28.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

Gornick Gets Robbery Charge

Mount Prospect police said Sunday they will charge James Gornick, 38, of 419 Baldwin Road, Palatine, with armed robbery in the July 7 stick-up of Walt Boyle's Novelty Store.

Gornick was charged Saturday with the weekend robbery of the First National Bank of Dundee in which he escaped with $8,834 in cash.

The robber, according to witnesses, wielded a flower box containing a shotgun. A similar pattern was followed in the novelty shop hold-up, and the same thing occurred in the $900 robbery at Hillman's Food Store.

Police said Gornick was positively identified as the same man who held up the novelty store. They said they will obtain a warrant today charging him with the robbery.

They said they haven't questioned those persons involved in the food store robbery and have not determined whether the same man robbed the store.

The Hillman's robbery occurred on July 17. In each incident the gunman escaped from the scene, eluding capture by store employees and police.

Jubilee Begins Monday

Registration for a variety of Wheeling Diamond Jubilee athletic events begins this week.

Entries are due Friday for an open tennis tournament at Wheeling High School Aug. 18-22.

Teens and adults will compete in the evening and children will compete during the day. Trophies will be awarded to each division winner. Entry blanks are available at the Heritage Park Building, 222 S. Wolf Road.

For swimming enthusiasts competition in a Diamond Jubilee Swimming Meet will students will be enrolled in kindergarten through grade seven at the school, 501 N. Arlington Heights Road, Buffalo Grove.

begin at 5 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 21. Boys and girls will compete in separate age groups. Diving competition will be split between those 12 and under and those 13 and older.

Also on Aug. 21, Jubilee "youth day" will begin at 1 p.m. at Heritage Park. Bicycle races, tuss of war softball games, and skill contests will be featured.

For the older crowd, a "men's fun and games day" will be held Saturday, Aug. 23 at 10 a.m. at Heritage Park. Horseshoe pitching contests with "no ringers allowed," a tug of war between residents from the east and west sides of town, and softball games will be climaxed by mass applications of liniment following the contests. Persons interested in participating in the swimming, diving youth day or the men's day contests must register at the park district by early next week, according to Supt. Fred Arndt.

THE LAW TOUCHES ALL. Buffalo Grove Trustee Kenneth Felton reported he got a ticket July 31 for parking in the Ranch Mart Shopping Center. He paid the $5 fine.

THE ESTABLISHMENT STRIKES BACK. Gerry De Boer, of 944 Poble Drive, Wheeling, reported to police that someone had stolen the "hippie flowers" from her Volkswagen.

UNHEALTHY INFLUENCE? John Peters, new director of pupil personnel services for Dist. 21, landed in the hospital with a perforated ulcer. He had only been on the job one week. "So that's the sort of effect working in this district has on people!" joked Supt. Kenneth Gill.

WHEELING'S plan commission recently decided not to participate in the Diamond Jubilee Spectacular as a group. The plan commission doesn't want to make a spectacle of itself. Trustee Michael Valenza said.

THERE WAS SMOKE but there wasn't any fire. Wheeling firemen answered a report of smoke coming from the Diamond Jubilee Headquarters last weekend but discovered only a faulty electrical connection, no fire.

SCRATCH THE ITCH — Buffalo Grove trustees recently got sidetracked onto a discussion of DDT and the mosquito problem. Trustee Allan Thorud cut off discussion when he noted, "There's no malaria yet."

The Lighter Side

The Smooth Sell

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) —While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the "principles and techniques" of selling could, with slight modification, "just as easily be applied" to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty ruminations was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Scoremanship." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

I have an ingrown suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

Rev. Knauss Is Pastor

The Rev. Keith E. Knauss has been named pastor of the Prospect Heights Baptist Church.

Rev. Knauss will assume his duties on Sept. 1. He served as pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church Ottumwa, Iowa for 13 years. That church's congregation increased from 40 to 350 members during his ministry. Mr. Knauss also directed four building programs at that church.

His EDUCATIONAL background includes a bachelor of theology degree from Practical Bible Training School, a bachelor of arts degree from Vassar College, and master's and doctor's of theology degrees from Burton College and Seminary. He has written six books.

Mr. Knauss and his wife, Nellie, have three daughters.

By coincidence, however, it happened to arrive at time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used transferred them to a used car lot.

Customer: How about this 1962 station wagon over here? Is it in pretty good condition?

Customer: How about the price?

Salesman: "A beggarly account of empty boxes."

Customer: Actually I was looking for a smaller car. How about that compact over there?

Salesman: "She comes in shape no bigger than an agate stone on the forefinger of an alderman."

Customer: But those little cars are usually sluggish. Will this one run good?

Salesman: "Like the lightning. Ten times faster glide than the sun's beams."

Customer: What kind of guarantee will you give me?

Salesman: By yonder blessed moon I swear, that tips with silver all these fruit-

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R-Kentworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, an answer to Schaumburg Township business men who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weathersfield Commons, Golf Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hofman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of an and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families and prepared themselves for the 'hero circuit' on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisements from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion add'l welfare package for his work force system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SALIGON — U.S. military sources said in the light of enemy troop movements they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

NEW SWIMMING POOL will be built on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road in Prospect Heights if voters approve River Trails Park District bond issue referendum Aug. 23.

Amount of the bond issue is $475,000. If built, the pool would be able to accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people. Present plans call for a deep water area running the entire length of the pool.

Pool Vote Explanation To Residents

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co. to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Accidents Hurt 2 Over Weekend

Two Wheeling boys were injured last weekend in separate accidents.

Ricky Taylor, 9, of 305 Edgewood, was in fair condition Monday at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Ricky suffered a broken pelvis from an accident Sunday afternoon when he was struck by a car while crossing Milwaukee Avenue just south of Mayer Avenue.

Wheeling police have charged Randall M. Maday, 18, of Cincinnati, Ohio, with failure to reduce speed to avoid collision in connection with the accident. Maday will appear Aug. 26 in Arlington Heights District Court.

IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT at Friday noon, Gregory Leo, 5, of 1321 Anthony Road, was knocked from his bicycle on the east side of Schoenbeck Road, 200 feet south of Dundee Road. His bike was struck by a car driven by Robert F. Moszkiewicz, 22, of Apt. 123 1321 S. Wolf Road.

Moszkiewicz was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision and will appear in Arlington Heights District Court Oct. 14.

Gregory was treated and released from Holy Family Hospital for minor injuries.

"Bowl-in" Aug. 17

Achim Lodge B.Na. B'nith of Buffalo Grove will sponsor a "bowl-in" beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Buffalo Grove Rose Bowl.

Free bowling, shoe rental and coffee will be available.

The "bowl-in" is also the time of the final sign-up for the lodge's new bowling league. The league will start Oct. 5. Game averages for the league will be determined at the "bowl-in" according to Dave Gran of Arlington Heights, the lodge's athletic chairman.

Aid Plan Grows

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 63 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 134 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half or 47.9 per cent were from Wheeling. The next largest number 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 28.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

Gornick Gets Robbery Charge

Mount Prospect police said Sunday they will charge James Gornick, 38, of 449 Baldwin Road, Palatine, with armed robbery in the July 7 stick-up of Walt Boyle's Novelty Store.

Gornick was charged Saturday with the weekend robbery of the First National Bank of Dundee in which he escaped with $8,834 in cash.

The robber, according to witnesses, wielded a flower box containing a shotgun. A similar pattern was followed in the novelty shop hold-up and the same thing occurred in the $800 robbery at Hillman's Food Store.

Police said Gornick was positively identified as the same man who held up the novelty store. They said they will obtain a warrant today charging him with the robbery.

They said they haven't questioned those persons involved in the food store robbery and have not determined whether the same man robbed the store.

The Hillman's robbery occurred on July 17. In each incident the gunman escaped from the scene, eluding capture by store employees and police.

WORKMAN PUTS THE finishing touches on the new Henry Wadsworth Longfellow School scheduled to open this fall in Dist 21. Approximately 500 students will be enrolled in kindergarten through grade seven at the school, 501 N. Arlington Heights Road, Buffalo Grove.

Jubilee Begins Monday

Recreation for a variety of Wheeling Diamond Jubilee athletic events begins this week.

Events are due Friday for an open tennis tournament at Wheeling High School Aug. 15.

Teens and adults will compete in the evening and children will compete during the day. Trophies will be awarded to each division winner. Entry blanks are available at the Heritage Park Building 222 S. Wolf Road.

For swimming enthusiasts competition in a Diamond Jubilee Swimming Meet will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 14. Boys and girls will compete in separate age groups. Diving competition will be split between those 12 and under and those 13 and older.

Also on Aug. 21 Jubilee youth day will begin at 1 p.m. at Heritage Park. Bicycle races, tug-of-war, softball games and skill contests will be featured.

For the older crowd a men's fun and time trial will be held Saturday, Aug. 23, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Heritage Park. Horseback riding, tennis, and other sports will be featured. A tug-of-war between residents on the east and west sides of town and football games will be climaxed by mass applications of liniment following the con-

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R. Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, an swearing Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on name recognition in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weathersfield Commons, Golf Rose, Higgins Golf, Hoffman Estates and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

The Smooth Sell

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago, a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the principles and techniques of selling could with slight modification, just as easily be applied to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty rumormongers was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Scoremanship." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

I have an ingrown suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

By coincidence however, it happened to arrive at time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used transferred them to a used car lot.

Customer: How about this 1962 station wagon over here? Is it in pretty good condition?

To illustrate the point I have taken a few lines from "Romeo and Juliet" and car sales.

Salesman: One fairer than my love, the all seeing sun never saw her match since first the world begun. She hangs upon the cheek of night like a rich jewel. Her beauty makes this value a feasting presence full of light.

Customer: How about the price?

Salesman: A beggarly account of empty boxes.

Customer: Actually I was looking for a smaller car. How about that compact over there?

Salesman: She comes in shape no bigger than an agate stone on the forefinger of an alchemist.

Customer: But those little cars are usually sluggish. Will this one run good?

Salesman: Like the lightning. Ten times faster glide than the sun's beams.

Customer: What kind of guarantee will you give me?

Salesman: By yonder blessed moon I swear that tips with silver all these fruits.

Rev. Knauss Is Pastor

The Rev. Keith E. Knauss has been named pastor of the Prospect Heights Baptist Church.

Rev. Knauss will assume his duties on Sept. 1. He served as pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church Ottumwa Iowa for 13 years. That church's congregation increased from 40 to 350 members during his ministry. Mr. Knauss also directed four building programs at that church.

HIS EDUCATIONAL background includes a bachelor of theology degree from Practical Bible Training School, a bachelor of arts degree from Vassar College and master's and doctor's of theology degrees from Burton College and Seminary. He has written six books.

Mr. Knauss and his wife, Nellie, have three daughters.

To Consider Sewers

The engineering committee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) board of trustees is to meet today to consider $8 million in contracts for northwest suburban sewers.

Communities that would primarily benefit from the proposed 6½ miles of interceptor sewers are Palatine, Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The MSD board is to decide Aug. 28 on any recommendations coming from the engineering committee's meeting. The proposed northwest suburban projects are part of $14 million the MSD is assured in construction funds. Southwest Cook County is getting about $8 million in interceptors in the same proposal.

TWO PROJECTS, broken down into four construction contracts are involved. Two contracts will extend an interceptor sewer northwest along Algonquin Road and serve the communities of Schaumburg, Hoffman Estates, Palatine and South Barrington.

Two other contracts will serve Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township.

Forrest Neil, MSD acting chief engineer, said Monday the Wheeling Township projects will keep the MSD's commitment with the Prospect Heights Old Town Sanitary District to provide sewer service by 1970.

TRUSTEE E. GEORGE THEIM, chairman of the engineering committee, explained the projects were a recommendation from Gen. Supt. Vinton Bacon and the engineering staff. When first presented, the board felt it did not have enough information to act on the recommendation, Theim explained.

Theim said the sewers will be installed to take the load off the existing interceptors. The northwest suburbs is served by the North Side Sewage Treatment plant and increased development has caused an overload of these interceptors, especially during rain.

The new interceptors will tie into the Salt Creek and O'Hare water reclamation plants when these sewage treatment facilities are constructed, Theim said.

"WE PLAN TO COME up with recommendations to present the board Aug. 28," Theim said. "It's likely we will then officially authorize the advertising for putting the projects to bid."

Robert G. Currie, MSD engineer for sewer design, said the line serving Schaumburg and Palatine would extend from an existing interceptor along Algonquin Road which dead ends 600 feet southeast of Plum Grove Road. The line would extend northwest along Algonquin Road about 10,550 feet to a point 2,900 feet northwest of Roselle Road.

THIS CONTRACT PORTION would call for 425 calendar construction days and has a preliminary cost estimate of $1 million. A second contract would pick up and extend the interceptor along Algonquin Road 5,220 feet to a proposed new street in Hoffman Estates. Preliminary cost estimate of this contract is $1,200,000 and construction would be 350 calendar days.

These sewers would range in size from 33 inches to five feet in diameter.

In Wheeling Township, one project would extend an existing interceptor at the intersection of Wolf and Camp McDonald roads. The line would go west along Camp McDonald approximately 5,424 feet to Wheeling Road, north along Wheeling Road about 2,717 feet to Willow Road, and west along Willow Road about 1,000 feet to Hillside Avenue.

CURRIE SAID THIS contract is estimated at $2 million and would take 310 calendar days in construction.

Another contract would pick up at Hillside and Willow Road and extend the interceptor 935 feet west on Willow Road to Maple St., north along Maple St. 1,325 feet to Kenilworth Ave., west along Kenilworth Ave. 4,600 feet to Dale Ave., south along Dale Ave. 1,350 feet to Willow Road, then west along Willow Road 1,315 feet to its termination at Willow Road and Waterman Ave.

Sensitive Student, He'll Seek Dignity

by KATHY BARNES

I saw chalk drawings on the wall which he had done, the copy of Lawrence Ferlinghetti's "Coney Island of the Mind" and as he ushered me to an overstuffed chair, I could feel how this 17-year-old wasn't a boy at all, but a sensitive and remarkable individual. Then he told me he is in the process of writing two plays and portraying the king in a student production of "Once Upon A Mattress."

Steve Linsner of Palatine, a 1969 St. Viator's graduate, is exactly the type of student for New College in Sarasota, Fla.

New College is a revolutionary concept in education which is looking for what Steve calls "qualified underachievers," or students who have never been stimulated intellectually to the point of real motivation.

It seeks to "maintain the dignity of the student's role in his own education."

"DIGNITY, THAT'S IT! That hits it right on the head. The student must have his own dignity. Did you read that story in the Los Angeles Free Press called 'Student as Nigger'?" Steve exclaimed.

The story discusses the inequities in modern university facilities concerning the treatment of students.

"Why is it that teachers are so often interested in their own goals, or writing the great American novel instead of being concerned with the interests and needs of their students?" he asked.

I related my experiences with bad teachers and those who purposely make things hard for students.

He agreed and pushed things a little farther: "If they can't care about us learning and teaching them at the same time, then they shouldn't be teachers."

HE TOLD ME THAT his acceptance letter from New College said the learning process would come from them, but they also expected he would have much to contribute to the college. "That's a great feeling, for them to think I have something to teach them."

At New College, Steve says, all students receive a bachelor of arts degree, which may be completed in three years. There is not necessarily any specialized area of study besides that which the student wishes to make for himself.

STEVE THINKS HE may go into some area of psychology, but doesn't think he'll "ever quit writing — I guess that's really what I'm interested in."

He sees the necessity for a graduate education and, as 80 per cent of this year's New College class, he will follow them to the best graduate schools in the country.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SAIGON — U.S. military sources said, in the light of enemy troop movements, they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1968-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

4-H Takes Prizes

No longer down on the farm, 4-H club members in Rolling Meadows won grand championship prizes in geology, bird study and baby sitting at the North Cook County 4-H fair this month.

Julie Porten, 14, Connie Brown, 13 and Ray Patterson, 12, are 4-H club members who won the highest prizes.

Bird study won the prize for Julie, who reported on a year-long study of the robin.

She has been in 4-H for five years, and has entered other projects in the fairs. Sewing, cooking, forestry, tropical fish, photography, room improvement and gardening are among the subjects she has studied in 4-H.

ONE OF HER FIRST projects for bird study was to see and identify 25 birds. Her project was a poster showing a detailed study of the robin.

Connie won her grand champion for geology. Her interest began when she and her family took a trip to the Rocky Mountains and she began collecting rocks.

She has also collected rocks from the South, and has 36 rocks labeled and identified in her collection. "Finding the rocks is the easy part, the hard part is testing them and identifying what kind they are," she said.

In 4-H for four years, Connie has worked with tropical fish, cooking, sewing, etymology, dog care, leather craft, forestry and room improvement.

She has also entered other projects in fairs, showing insects, making a scale model of a bedroom and baking projects.

RAY, THE ONLY BOY entered in his classification, showed the girls how when he won the grand champion for baby sitting. He made two toys for two age groups to capture the prize.

"Romper stompers," a toy for age 7-12, was a still set made of juice cans. The other game, "toss a ball," consisted of three cans nailed to a board, the object being to toss a ball inside the cans. This was for the 1-5 age group.

Ray has experience baby-sitting, with two brothers and a sister in his family.

A third place photography project is also on the list of the three year 4-H member. He did a picture story about going to the airport.

A friend talking about 4-H in class prompted Ray to join the club. He is interested in the outdoors and conservation. He is also in the boy scouts.

MRS. VIRGINIA BROWN, a co-leader for the 4-H club in Rolling Meadows, said there are a lot of science projects, and doesn't think it would be long before a rocketry program starts.

She said 4-H is getting away from large farm animals, but the club members still want to know how to care for smaller animals.

Connie is her daughter, and Mrs. Brown got her daughter interested in 4-H.

"All the girls were upset when Ray won the grand champion in baby sitting," Mrs. Brown said.

Headliners is the name of the girl's club and Explorers is the name of the boys.

MRS. BROWN SAID THERE were 26 girls and about 8 boys in 4-H in Rolling Meadows.

Connie said members go into a project completely and follow it through. For geology, she started out knowing three rocks, and her final project will be a geological survey of Illinois.

"Everything gets much more advanced," said Mrs. Brown. She said there are about nine parents involved, including co-leader Mrs. Mary Lou Porten.

The 4-H club has donated park equipment to Rolling Meadows by the sale of candy and Christmas candles.

Park to Host Dog Contest

Kids and their dogs will be the center of attention at Palatine Community Park at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Ken-L Ration Kids Amateur Dog Show, sponsored by the Palatine Park District and Jewel-Osco in cooperation with the Quaker Oats Company.

Five judging categories are open to children 16 and under for dog showing. First, second and third place winners in best costumed dog, best trick dog, smallest dog, largest dog, and best groomed dog will receive ribbons. First place winners will then compete for special awards in the "Best of Show" competition.

All entrants will be given participation favors and dog food. There is no entry fee.

RULES ALLOW children to enter the dog show regardless of breed and special training of their pets. Dogs must be on a leash and under control at all times; they must be cleaned, combed, and brushed. Dogs entered in the smallest dog class must be at least six months old; children must be present at the park with their dogs at least 30 minutes before showtime; and participating children cannot be over 16 years old.

Judges for the annual children's dog show will be Wally Beery, of Quaker Oats, and Tom and Patty Webb from the park district.

Entry blanks can be picked up at the Palatine Park District office or the Palatine Jewel-Osco store.

by DON BRANNAN
Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R-Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, answering Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weatherfield Commons, Golf-Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hoffman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

HEAD START volunteers staffed an empty classroom in Arlington Heights yesterday afternoon. Some parents of children in the program voted Friday to boycott today's classes in Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Palatine and Des

Diseased Trees Removed

Hawthorn Park, a triangular community park located on Greeley and S. Brockway in Palatine is getting a face-lifting. The park, once shaded by large elm trees, will lose seven trees this week because of the Dutch elm disease.

The people who live around the park have been trying to have the dead trees removed. "We didn't want the disease to spread to our trees," Mrs. Robert Wagner, 71 S. Brockway, said.

The Wagners and 11 other families in the area feel the park is an extension of their front lawns. "We talked with Rex McMorris, director of parks and recreation, about putting in flower beds," McMorris says the park district will dig the beds if the residents want to plant them.

"IT TOOK US awhile to get the men and equipment in there to take the trees out," McMorris said. "It would have cost the park district $130 per tree to have it done. The city is letting us use its men on Saturdays to cut the dead trees out. Cost now Plaines and to demand that funding for the program be switched from Norwestco to some other agency. The group also plans to press for staff changes.

will be about $50 per tree."

"I knew last fall the trees had to come out, but we couldn't get anything worked out with the city. Now we hope to have them out this week."

McMorris says the park district may be able to plant new trees late this fall or next spring. "We are putting benches and play equipment in. I think next summer, things will look a little different in the park."

Counselors To Attend Workshop on Drugs

High school counselors Lawrence Kocsmaros from Rolling Meadows and Irene Bishop of Palatine will participate in the George Williams College workshop on drug dependence.

The Aug. 18 through 23 conference at the Downers Grove college is for teachers, nurses, counselors and graduate students.

The latest facts on drugs, materials and methods for dealing with addiction, and concepts needed for understanding problems of dependency will be emphasized.

Two graduate credits will be granted for successful completion of the workshop, with one follow-up credit possible for students who complete additional projects.

Dr. Groves Joins Medical Faculty

Dr. David L. Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Groves, Palatine, has joined the faculty of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

His appointment as assistant professor of microbiology became effective July 1. Groves, an immunologist, will have faculty responsibilities in teaching and research. His primary research interests involve the cellular aspects of immune response.

He recently completed two years of post-doctoral training in the biology division of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn. His work was supported by a U.S. Public Health Service postdoctoral fellowship.

A graduate of Marietta College, Groves holds the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin where he was a teaching and research assistant.

Three Charged In Shoplifting

Three persons were charged with shoplifting items from Randhurst stores late last week.

Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, a 34-year-old Des Plaines housewife, was charged with petty theft for attempting to steal $92 in clothing from Carson Pirie Scott and Co. She was released on $1,000 bond and is slated to appear in Mount Prospect court Sept. 4.

Janice Bourbob, 18, of 504 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, was also charged at Carson's with attempting to shoplift $84 in clothing. She will make a court appearance in Mount Prospect Aug. 21.

The third person charged was Mike Gale, 19, of 244 Smith Street, Palatine. Police said he was charged with shoplifting a sweater valued at $45 from Ward's. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Mount Prospect court Aug. 21.

"It's a Small World" will be presented by the Rolling Meadows synchronized Swim Club Aug. 27 at 8:30 p.m.

Swim numbers representing countries over the world will be performed by the cast of about 30 swimmers.

"HAWAII FIVE O" will represent America. "Chop Suey" from Flower Drum Song will represent Asia, and "Finian's Rainbow" will represent Ireland.

From Russia, "Dr. Zhivago" will be presented; "Zorba the Greek" from Greece and "Camelot" from England.

Barbara Kugelmann is the instructor for the swim club.

Rain date for the show is Aug. 28.

Push for Housing Group

Establishing a special Mayor's Commission to deal with open housing will be recommended by the ordinance and judiciary committee to the Rolling Meadows City Council tonight.

In a meeting last week, the committee proposed the commission, and its full report will be given to the council tonight.

Alderman James Watson, a member of the committee, said the commission would be composed of three aldermen to be a public relations commission.

He said the purpose of the commission would be to receive, document, and record complaints and violations of the open housing laws.

THE COMMITTEE would report periodically to the city council. In reference to the open housing ordinance proposed by the Human Relations Council presented at the council's last meeting, Watson said it will be held in committee until a need is shown for an open housing ordinance.

This would be decided by the three man commission report, who would study the need for an ordinance, he said.

The ordinance presented by Dave Sundling, chairman of the Human Relations Council, had a provision for a commission included in the ordinance.

Sundling said the purpose of this commission was to allow communities to provide machinery to handle any situations that might arise.

The ordinance was a combination of ordinances from other suburbs, making it more effective, Sundling said.

ANOTHER PURPOSE of the ordinance was to provide a means of recourse for people in the community, other than the federal government, Sundling said.

Regulating the conduct of real estate transactions, the ordinance also set up machinery for remedies and penalties of violations.

The Human Relations Commission was to be appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the city council.

Under the ordinance that is now being held in committee, the city council was empowered to license real estate agents and revoke licenses issued under the ordinance for violations of provisions of the ordinance.

INCLUDED in the ordinance was a standard of conduct for real estate brokers compelling them to conduct business in the following manner:

— Brokers must show any person demonstrating need and financial qualifications all real estate meeting such need and qualifications.

— Limitation or conditions for the sale of real estate on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin cannot be stated or implied in any communications from the broker.

— Brokers may not participate in any discriminatory practice or action relating to the placing of restrictions on the listing, showing, sale, leasing, rental, financing, improvement or acquisition of real estate.

— Brokers cannot cause undue expense or hardship to persons seeking residential housing.

— Brokers must account for, as required, all and any moneys or documents coming into his possession which belong to others.

— Compensation received of any nature for an act performed in violation of the ordinance by the broker is illegal.

— Brokers may not make any misrepresentations or false claims.

— Under the proposed ordinance it would be unlawful for brokers to fail to set price, terms, conditions, or privileges of any kind relative to the sale, lease, rental, financing, repair, rehabilitation, construction, maintenance, occupancy or improvement of real estate.

— Any limitations or conditions upon real estate must not be encouraged, recommended or solicited by the broker.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

Expect New Offensive

SAIGON — U.S. military sources said, in the light of enemy troop movements, they are expecting an offensive in the area of Long Binh Province within the next nine days.

Intelligence reports indicate about 2,500 Viet Cong troops have moved out of Cambodia and into Long Binh Province. It was also reported that about 13,000 North Vietnamese troops are being massed in the area of the Demilitarized Zone.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

Sensitive Student, He'll Seek Dignity

by KATHY BARNES

I saw chalk drawings on the wall which he had done, the copy of Lawrence Ferlinghetti's "Coney Island of the Mind" and as he ushered me to an overstuffed chair, I could feel how this 17-year-old wasn't a boy at all, but a sensitive and remarkable individual. Then he told me he is in the process of writing two plays and portraying the king in a student production of "Once Upon A Mattress."

Steve Linsner of Palatine, a 1969 St. Victor's graduate, is exactly the type of student for New College in Sarasota, Fla.

New College is a revolutionary concept in education which is looking for what Steve calls "qualified underachievers," or students who have never been stimulated intellectually to the point of real motivation.

It seeks to "maintain the dignity of the student's role in his own education."

"DIGNITY, THAT'S IT! That hits it right on the head — the student must have his own dignity. Did you read that story in the Los Angeles Free Press called 'Student as Nigger'?" Steve exclaimed.

The story discusses the inequities in modern university faculties concerning the treatment of students.

"Why is it that teachers are so often interested in their own goals, or writing the great American novel instead of being concerned with the interests and needs of their students?" he asked.

I related my experiences with bad teachers and those who purposely make things hard for students.

He agreed and pushed things a little farther: "If they can't care about us learning and teaching them at the same time, then they shouldn't be teachers."

HE TOLD ME THAT his acceptance letter from New College said the learning process would come from them, but they also expected he would have much to contribute to the college. "That's a great feeling, for them to think I have something to teach them."

At New College, Steve says, all students receive a bachelor of arts degree, which may be completed in three years. There is not necessarily any specialized area of study besides that which the student wishes to make for himself.

STEVE THINKS HE may go into some area of psychology, but doesn't think he'll "ever quit writing — I guess that's really what I'm interested in."

He sees the necessity for a graduate education and, as 80 per cent of this year's New College class, he will follow them to the best graduate schools in the country.

New College's unique educational concept is this: "The student makes a contract with two faculty advisers at the beginning of each term. It is his own responsibility to fulfill the terms of the contract in any manner he wishes. He then must convince his advisers he has fulfilled his contract."

He may do this by any method from traditional coursework to independent study.

THERE ARE NO GRADES, pre-requisites or credit hours.

In addition, each student has a one month period of each year in which he may pursue any type of independent project he may wish.

Steve says this may range anywhere from studying at another school to traveling.

He knows of one group of students who conducted a T-group on a remote island. A T-group is involved in introspection and sensitivity training.

For his first independent study project, Steve says he will produce one of the plays he is currently writing. A friend from Iowa will help with the production.

Construction Is Resumed

Construction work on Arlington High School's life safety program to make the building as fire proof as possible is resuming.

Wayne Fritch of the architectural firm responsible for the work told the High School Dist. 214 board last night that Capital Indemnity Co. is assuming responsibility as subcontractor for the project.

Fritch said that Sept. 1 has been chosen as a completion date but said he doubts that date can be reached.

THE CAPITAL INDEMNITY CO. has picked up the $24,100 cost of the project and is working to complete the remodeling, delayed for almost a year by contractor problems.

The board was informed by Dr. Robert G. Weber, assistant superintendent for business services that the district is having two surveys conducted of its phone services.

The six-school district is using an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. survey and a private survey in an attempt to cut telephone costs.

Stated for tentative approval last night was the $21.6 million budget for 1969-70, the largest budget in the district's history.

The board was also scheduled to consider approval of the 1969-70 student accident insurance contract.

4-H Takes Prizes

No longer down on the farm, 4-H club members in Rolling Meadows won grand championship prizes in geology, bird study and baby sitting at the North Cook County 4-H fair this month.

Julie Porten, 14, Connie Brown, 13 and Ray Patterson, 12, are 4-H club members who won the highest prizes.

Bird study won the prize for Julie, who reported on a year-long study of the robin.

She has been in 4-H for five years, and has entered other projects in the fairs. Sewing, cooking, forestry, tropical fish, photography, room improvement and gardening are among the subjects she has studied in 4-H.

ONE OF HER FIRST projects for bird study was to see and identify 25 birds. Her project was a poster showing a detailed study of the robin.

Connie won her grand champion for geology. Her interest began when she and her family took a trip to the Rocky Mountains and she began collecting rocks.

She has also collected rocks from the South, and has 36 rocks labeled and identified in her collection. "Finding the rocks is the easy part, the hard part is testing them and identifying what kind they are," she said.

In 4-H for four years, Connie has worked with tropical fish, cooking, sewing, etymology, dog care, leather craft, forestry and room improvement.

She has also entered other projects in fairs, showing insects, making a scale model of a bedroom and baking projects.

RAY, THE ONLY BOY entered in his classification, showed the girls how when he won the grand champion for baby sitting. He made two toys for two age groups to capture the prize.

"Romper stompers," a toy for age 7-12, was a still set made of juice cans. The other game, "toss a ball," consisted of three cans nailed to a board, the object being to toss a ball inside the cans. This was for the 1-5 age group.

Ray has experience baby-sitting, with two brothers and a sister in his family.

A third place photography project is also on the list of the three year 4-H member.

He did a picture story about going to the airport.

A friend talking about 4-H in class prompted Ray to join the club. He is interested in the outdoors and conservation. He is also in the boy scouts.

MRS. VIRGINIA BROWN, a co-leader for the 4-H club in Rolling Meadows, said there are a lot of science projects, and doesn't think it would be long before a rocketry program starts.

She said 4-H is getting away from large farm animals, but the club members still want to know how to care for smaller animals.

Connie is her daughter, and Mrs. Brown got her daughter interested in 4-H.

"All the girls were upset when Ray won the grand champion in baby sitting," Mrs. Brown said.

Headliners is the name of the girl's club and Explorers is the name of the boys.

MRS. BROWN SAID THERE were 26 girls and about 8 boys in 4-H in Rolling Meadows.

Connie said members go into a project completely and follow it through. For geology, she started out knowing three rocks, and her final project will be a geological survey of Illinois.

"Everything gets much more advanced," said Mrs. Brown. She said there are about nine parents involved, including co-leader Mrs. Mary Lou Porten.

The 4-H club has donated park equipment to Rolling Meadows by the sale of candy and Christmas candles.

GRAND CHAMPION WINNERS from left, Connie Brown, Ray Patterson and Julie Porten. The three won the highest classification for 4-H projects at the North Cook County

4-H fair this month. Connie and Julie wear the dresses they made and entered for another project in the fair.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

Diseased Trees Removed

Hawthorn Park, a triangular community park located on Greeley and S. Brockway in Palatine is getting a face-lifting. The park, once shaded by large elm trees, will lose seven trees this week because of the Dutch elm disease.

The people who live around the park have been trying to have the dead trees removed. "We didn't want the disease to spread to our trees," Mrs. Robert Wagner, 174 S. Brockway, said.

The Wagners and 11 other families in the area feel the park is an extension of their front lawns. "We talked with Rex McMorris, director of parks and recreation, about putting in flower beds," McMorris says the park district will dig the beds if the residents want to plant them.

"IT TOOK US awhile to get the men and equipment in there to take the trees out," McMorris said. "It would have cost the park district $100 per tree to have it done. The city is letting us use its men on Saturdays to cut the dead trees out. Cost now will be about $50 per tree."

"I knew last fall the trees had to come out, but we couldn't get anything worked out with the city. Now we hope to have them out this week."

McMorris says the park district may be able to plant new trees late this fall or next spring. "We are putting benches and play equipment in I think next summer, things will look a little different in the park."

Counselors To Attend Workshop on Drugs

High school counselors Lawrence Kocsmaros from Rolling Meadows and Irene Bishop of Palatine will participate in the George Williams College workshop on drug dependence.

The Aug. 18 through 23 conference at the Downers Grove college is for teachers, nurses, counselors and graduate students.

The latest facts on drugs, materials and methods for dealing with addiction, and concepts needed for understanding problems of dependency will be emphasized.

Two graduate credits will be granted for successful completion of the workshop, with one follow-up credit possible for students who complete additional projects.

Pitner Looks for 20,000 Jobs

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Johnston Promises Office

An office will be opened by State Rep. Alan Johnston to serve Northwest suburban residents in the 13th Congressional District, should he be elected congressman to replace Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Johnston, R-Kenilworth, is one of 11 candidates seeking Republican endorsement for Rumsfeld's seat in Congress.

During a day-long visit yesterday through Schaumburg Township he told residents that the office will be located in either Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling or Elk Grove townships.

It would be open a few days a week, and an answering service would be available the rest of the time, he said.

JOHNSTON was questioned in the morning on drug control and youth programs by community leaders at Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

"Appropriations should be continued in law enforcement with emphasis on the narcotics division of local police agencies," he said. "This emphasis would slow down drug traffic and increase convictions."

Higher salaries for police officials, funds for teen programs and athletics would also be sought from Washington by Johnston.

"We have to take strong steps to curb inflation by reducing expenditures, particularly by the military," he added, answering Schaumburg Township businessmen who were concerned about current mortgage rates.

JOHNSTON believes the cuts he supports would cause mortgage rates to decrease and allow more people to buy and build homes.

He talked on President Nixon's Welfare program last night, saying it is a step in the right direction. He likes aspects of the proposal that offer work incentives to welfare recipients, and equalization clauses aimed to prevent the current migrations from state to state in pursuit of higher welfare checks.

Money for day care centers to accommodate the children of welfare recipients who work or train for jobs is another area Johnston said should be continued and expanded.

JOHNSTON plans to spend a substantial part of his time campaigning in the western part of the 13th Congressional District. Although he has been in the Illinois House of Representatives since 1962 he feels he should work on "name recognition" in this area.

His visit yesterday to Schaumburg Township included stops at Weatherfield Commons, Golf-Rose, Higgins-Golf, Hoffman Estates, and Magna Mart shopping centers.

Johnston's visit to this western portion of the district came four days before the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST) will make its endorsement. Front runners for the endorsement are considered to be Samuel Young, John Nimrod and Philip Crane.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the

Dr. Groves Joins Medical Faculty

Dr. David L. Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Groves, Palatine, has joined the faculty of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

His appointment as assistant professor of microbiology became effective July 1. Groves, an immunologist, will have faculty responsibilities in teaching and research. His primary research interests involve the cellular aspects of immune response.

He recently completed two years of post-doctoral training in the biology division of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn. His work was supported by a U.S. Public Health Service postdoctoral fellowship.

A graduate of Marietta College, Groves holds the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin where he was a teaching and research assistant.

Three Charged In Shoplifting

Three persons were charged with shoplifting items from Randhurst stores late last week.

Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, a 34-year-old Des Plaines housewife, was charged with petty theft for attempting to steal $92 in clothing from Carson Pirie Scott and Co. She was released on $1,000 bond and is slated to appear in Mount Prospect court Sept. 4.

Janice Bourbob, 18, of 504 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, was also charged at Carson's with attempting to shoplift $64 in clothing. She will make a court appearance in Mount Prospect Aug. 21.

The third person charged was Mike Gale, 19, of 244 Smith Street, Palatine. Police said he was charged with shoplifting a sweater valued at $45 from Ward's. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Mount Prospect court Aug. 21.

The Lighter Side The Smooth Sell

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—While taking a course in salesmanship a few years ago, a chap named Frank Gray was visited by a rather devilish idea.

It occurred to him that the "principles and techniques" of selling could, with slight modification, "just as easily be applied" to seduction.

The ultimate result of these naughty ruminations was the recent publication of a handbook titled "Scoremanship." Or so it says in the blurb prepared by Bantam Books.

I have an ingrown suspicion of book blurbs and I might ordinarily have dismissed this one as the product of an overwrought publicist.

By coincidence, however, it happened to arrive at time when I was shopping around for a used car.

After observing the "principles and techniques" of about a half a dozen used car salesmen, I came to the conclusion they would indeed make great lovers.

And had Don Juan and Casanova not expired before the advent of the automobile, both probably would have won free trips to Bermuda for leading their districts in used transferred them to a used car lot.

Customer: How about this 1962 station wagon over here? Is it in pretty good condition?

To illustrate the point, I have taken a few lines from "Romeo and Juliet" and car sales.

Salesman: "One fairer than my love, the all-seeing sun ne'er saw her match since first the world begun. She hangs upon the cheek of night like a rich jewel. Her beauty makes this value a feasting presence full of light."

Customer: How about the price?

Salesman: "A beggarly account of empty boxes."

Customer: Actually I was looking for a smaller car. How about that compact over there?

Salesman: "She comes in shape no bigger than an agatestone on the forefinger of an alderman."

Customer: But those little cars are usually sluggish. Will this one run good?

Salesman: "Like the lightning. Ten times faster glide than the sun's beams."

Customer: What kind of guarantee will you give me?

Salesman: "By yonder blessed moon I swear, that tips with silver all these fruit-

October Vote Is Likely

Dist. 57 will probably offer a referendum on its two-phase junior high building project in October.

Present estimates on the tentative plans could require a $650,000 bond issue to complete what board president Harry Hanson has termed "a much superior plan."

Summer vacations of board members have resulted in four-member attendance at the last two meetings with a regular meeting postponed because of lack of quorum.

Because of this, no firm decision on the referendum cost and date have been made. But the opinions of all but one board member are known through recent discussion.

Board member Alex Casper noted that only Mrs. Pat Kimball had not been contacted. Ralph Walberg, who was present at the last meeting but absent last night, had indicated he favors a fall referendum.

Board member Charles Houchins, also absent this week, has objected to the plans for a referendum. Houchins, a corporate attorney, said he felt stock market conditions and new taxes would unfavorably influence voters.

Board member Jack Ronchetto and Hanson said yesterday they favor the referendum. Leo Floros, who seemed to agree with Houchins previously, said this week, "I am in favor of this referendum and will support it enthusiastically. The only question is when it should be held."

Hanson said, "I think we have a good chance of passage. We will never know until we try, but I believe the second phase is a superior offering."

The district has had two plans drawn — Phase A and Phase B. Under Phase A the district would replace Central Junior High facilities at Lincoln for about $600,000. They would use the $410,000 from Central's sale plus about $200,000 from tax anticipation warrants (TAWs) drawn against the building maintenance fund.

The larger Phase B plan would cost about $1 million and would be financed through the referendum plus the Central fund. It has been described by board members as educationally superior to the cheaper plan.

If the referendum fails, there would have to be TAWs in both the building and educational funds, according to Sahlberg.

Slay Double Agent?

SAIGON — A civilian attorney said yesterday a South Vietnamese national allegedly slain by eight members of the U.S. Green Berets was a double agent who spied for both Hanoi and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Military officials in South Vietnam and Washington, in clamping tight security on the case, have refused to identify the alleged victim and have not found his body.

New Offensive Starts

SAIGON — The expected Communist offensive in South Vietnam began last night with Communist gunners sending rockets and mortars into 91 targets throughout the country.

The attacks, the biggest in two months were forecasted by U.S. intelligence with reported troop movements from Cambodia and a build-up along the Demilitarized Zone.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system, over the present cost of about $5 billion.

NEW SWIMMING POOL will be built on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road in Prospect Heights if voters approve River Trails Park District bond issue referendum Aug. 23. Amount of the bond issue is $475,000. If built, the pool would be able to accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people. Present plans call for a deep water area running the entire length of the pool.

Pool Vote Explanation To Residents

Residents of River Trails Park District will receive a brochure this week explaining the forthcoming bond referendum for a swimming pool, said Park Director, Marvin Weiss.

On Aug. 23, district voters will decide on the $475,000 bond issue to cover costs of the proposed pool, bathhouse, lighting, parking area and development of some of the surrounding grounds.

The average increase in the park district's portion of next year's real estate taxes would be about $3 per home if the referendum passes, Weiss said.

Weiss explained that the pool could be ready next summer because plans for the pool have already been approved. Construction could begin immediately if the referendum passes.

"BESIDES REGULAR swimming, the pool would have swim lessons, life saving instruction, synchronized swimming, swimming teams, and special separate nights for adults and teens. The bathhouse will also be heated and used as a skating shelter in the winter and for other indoor activities as well."

The proposed pool, to be located in the Woodland Trails Park on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road, could accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people, said Weiss. "It will be adequate for the future growth of the park district," he added.

X-Ray Unit Here 2 Days Next Week

Free chest X-rays will be available to Mount Prospect residents Aug. 18 and 19 when the TB unit visits the intersection of Main and Busse roads.

Hours for the mobile unit are noon to 7 p.m. on Aug. 18 and 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Aug. 19.

The unit, sponsored by the Mount Prospect Women's Club, is equipped and staffed by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and the Cook County Health Department.

Unveil New Toll Access Plan

Plans announced yesterday for the Arlington Heights Road interchange with the Northwest Tollway show a plan that is shadowing the long-proposed full cloverleaf.

The original proposal, submitted last year to the Illinois Division of Highways from the Illinois Tollway Authority, showed two access ramps to and from the tollway and a circular ramp in the southwest quadrant.

The new plans, which have received an informal go ahead sign from the state, show an additional circular ramp in the northwest quadrant of the interchange.

As designed, the ramp will circle the Elk Grove Township Hall.

MIKE ENDRES, a design engineer for the consulting firm of Knoerle, Bender, Stone and Associates, which is preparing the plans, told the Herald that the state had advised the tollway commission to go ahead with the new plans.

The sketches and plans must now go to the legal department of the tollway commission for approval. The legal department is responsible for acquiring land for the project.

Then, if final state and county approval is granted, bids can be accepted for the project, which has been pegged at a total cost of about $1.4 million. It is scheduled for completion in fall of next year.

THE REVISED MAP of the project shows that the new circular loop in the northwest quadrant eliminates a traffic light north of the interchange.

Originally, westbound traffic headed for Elk Grove would have exited on the same ramp used by Arlington Heights traffic heading northbound. A light might have been necessary.

The new plan shows Elk Grove traffic from Chicago traveling beyond the bridge over Arlington Heights Road, exiting on a ramp which circles and enters southbound Arlington Heights Road.

Other features of the plan remain the same. Westbound traffic exiting for northbound Arlington Heights Road will exit before reaching the bridge and will funnel into the road north of the bridge.

TO ENTER THE tollway from Arlington Heights, drive past the bridge and enter the circular ramp.

To enter the tollway from Elk Grove, turn right before reaching the bridge.

Eventually, when traffic warrants it, tollway officials plan to convert the interchange into a full cloverleaf, allowing entrance and exit in all directions for all traffic.

Residents of Elk Grove and Arlington Heights have been arguing for many years in favor of at least a partial interchange. The Tollway Access Committee (TAC), a group of residents of both communities, has argued long and hard for the interchange.

Damage at $5,932

The Mount Prospect Park District has suffered a $5,932 loss on recreational equipment and facilities destroyed or damaged by vandals within the last year.

Ralph Darling, supt. of grounds and maintenance reported to the board last night the total cost covered damages at 16 parks from Sept. 1, 1968 to July 22, 1969.

Meadows, Lions, and Brentwood parks received the most damage. Vandalism included damaged trees and bushes, ripped tennis nets, broken windows, cut swing chains, and stolen trash cans.

The damage at Lions Park is estimated at $2,137. Vandals forced their way into the main building and a warming shelter, breaking 17 windows and damaging one vending machine. Other damages included a smashed scoreboard and broken bleacher seats.

Darling also added that residents are using park areas to grow their own garden vegetables and walk their dogs, despite the signs posted by the park district.

In other action, the board purchased three and-a-half residential lots on We-GO Trail adjacent to the golf course for $43,750. The property was purchased pending condemnation proceedings filed by the park district two years ago.

Paul Caldwell, director of recreation, was appointed assistant director of parks and recreation last night. He will assist Tom Cooper with planning the district's recreation facilities and programs.

Caldwell's appointment is an increase in responsibility without an increase in salary.

Crank Thrown in Pool

Pranksters pitched an ice cream crank handle into the backyard pool of Mrs. R. L. Kuehner, 1106 Busse, Mount Prospect, last weekend.

Mrs. Kuehner told police that several times in the past objects have been pitched into her pool and that she has no idea why they are doing it.

Bridge Plan Accepted

The Mount Prospect Village trustee's fire and police commission voted 2-0 to accept the proposal of Bernard Hemminger for construction of two bridges spanning Weller Creek at George and See Gwin Street.

Hemminger's proposal was for $170,000 for the two bridges and his fee is $9,350, approximately 5.5 per cent of the total fee. A third bridge spanning School Street is proposed to be built at a later date.

Another proposal was received from Conser Townsend and Associates. Their fee was approximately 8 1/4 per cent of the total construction cost.

Acting Village Mgr. John Zimmerman said, "Hemminger's proposal seems to be the lowest."

In other action, the commission recommended the placement of permanent stop signs on Cottonwood Drive at the intersections of Fern, Birch and Chestnut.

Cottonwood has been used as a by-pass during construction on Dempster Street, and temporary stop signs are now in place there.

Resume Remodeling

Construction work on Arlington High School's life safety program to make the building as fire proof as possible is resuming.

Wayne Fritch of the architectural firm responsible for the work told the High School Dist. 214 board last night that Capital Indemnity Co. is assuming responsibility as subcontractor for the project.

Fritch said that Sept. 1 has been chosen as a completion date but said he doubts that date can be reached.

THE CAPITAL INDEMNITY CO. has picked up the $24,100 cost of the project and is working to complete the remodeling, delayed for almost a year by contractor problems.

The board was informed by Dr. Robert G. Weber, assistant superintendent for business services that the district is having two surveys conducted of its phone services.

The six-school district is using an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. survey and a private survey in an attempt to cut telephone costs.

Slated for tentative approval last night was the $21.6 million budget for 1969-70, the largest budget in the district's history.

The board was also scheduled to consider approval of the 1969-70 student accident insurance contract.

Pitner Looks for 20,000 Jobs

THEY MIGHT NOT be big ones, but in fishing, it is the spirit of the thing that counts. Young Tim Felski managed to wet a line during the recent Mount Prospect Park District fishing trip.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School District 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said

Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $150,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent, completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 23.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

Realty Transfers Listed

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights purchased the property from Floyd G. Moore, it was announced in the latest monthly Wheeling Township real estate transfer report from County Recorder Sidney R. Olsen.

The report listed 56 sales in Arlington Heights, 15 in Mount Prospect, nine in Prospect Heights, seven in Buffalo Grove, one in Des Plaines, and four in Wheeling and the rest of the township.

Olsen recorded the following property transfers for the township:

1703 N. Wilke, Arl. Hts., Thomas A. Ryan to Arthur Schiller; 802 Burr Oak Drive, Arl. Hts., Miller Bldrs., Inc. to Stephen M. Formella; 1307 W. Mulberry, Arl. Hts., Donald V. Speese to Robert E. Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race. Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

From the Library

Summer Music

by LAURIE ROSSI

The best in conductors, singers, pianists, violinists, and ensembles are again gathered for the summer at Ravinia. In this relaxing atmosphere, one can enjoy such special attractions as Louis Falco and his dance company, Ravi Shankar-sitarist, and the Claude Kipnis Mime theatre.

Here you may dress up and sit under the shell, or you bring a picnic supper and stretch out informally on a blanket in the grass area outside. If you prefer, have dinner in the restaurant on the grounds.

Many people seem to be more aware of music in the summer because of outdoor concerts and more leisure time. Yet, there are still people who don't know that for a long time the Mount Prospect library has had a wide selection of records that can be checked out for home use. These can also be taped in your home.

THEY ALSO HAVE some good books on music like The Feeling of Jazz and The Language of Modern Music. One of the newest concepts in music today is electronic music, barely out of the experimental stage. You can read about this new phenomena in Introduction to Contemporary Music.

The Mount Prospect library wants you to have a well rounded, relaxing, and enjoyable summer. We think you can have one that is particularly memorable if you learn to enjoy it with books. If music isn't your favorite, maybe you'll prefer the new mystery novel or best-seller on the seven-day loan shelf.

If you have nothing specific in mind, then just come in and browse, any weekday 9 to 9 or Saturday from 9 to 5.

Three Charged In Shoplifting

Three persons were charged with shoplifting items from Randhurst stores late last week.

Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, a 34-year-old Des Plaines housewife, was charged with petty theft for attempting to steal $92 in clothing from Carson Pirie Scott and Co. She was released on $1,000 bond and is slated to appear in Mount Prospect court Sept. 4.

Janice Bourbob, 18, of 504 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, was also charged at Carson's with attempting to shoplift $64 in clothing. She will make a court appearance in Mount Prospect Aug. 21.

The third person charged was Mike Gale, 19, of 244 Smith Street, Palatine. Police said he was charged with shoplifting a sweater valued at $45 from Ward's. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Mount Prospect court Aug. 21.

'Walking Closet' Sought in Theft

If you see a man wearing a size 42 suit, bedecked with jewelry, carrying two bottles of whiskey in his hip pocket, a fur coat over one arm and $300 in his wallet, report it to Mount Prospect police.

He may be the man who robbed the home of J. Muellens, 411 Garwood, Mount Prospect last weekend. Those are the items he is missing.

Muellens reported the incident to police after he returned from vacation. Police said the burglar had gained entry to the home by cutting through a screen door.

October Vote Is Likely

Slay Double Agent?

SAIGON — A civilian attorney said yesterday a South Vietnamese national allegedly slain by eight members of the U.S. Green Berets was a double agent who spied for both Hanoi and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Military officials in South Vietnam and Washington in clamping tight security on the case have refused to identify the alleged victim and have not found his body.

New Offensive Starts

SAIGON — The expected Communist offensive in South Vietnam began last night with Communist gunners sending rockets and mortars into 91 targets throughout the country.

The attacks the biggest in two months were forecasted by U.S. intelligence with reported troop movements from Cambodia and a build up along the Demilitarized Zone.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisements from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to oblige a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Mrs. Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

NEW SWIMMING POOL will be built on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road in Prospect Heights if voters approve River Trails Park District bond issue referendum Aug. 23.

Amount of the bond issue is $475,000. If built, the pool would be able to accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people. Present plans call for a deep water area running the entire length of the pool.

Pool Vote Explanation To Residents

Residents of River Trails Park District will receive a brochure this week explaining the forthcoming bond referendum for a swimming pool, said Park Director, Marvin Weiss.

On Aug. 23 district voters will decide on the $475,000 bond issue to cover costs of the proposed pool, bathhouse, lighting, parking area and development of some of the surrounding grounds.

The average increase in the park district's portion of next year's real estate taxes would be about $3 per home if the referendum passes Weiss said.

Weiss explained that the pool could be ready next summer because plans for the pool have already been approved. Construction could begin immediately if the referendum passes.

"BESIDES REGULAR swimming, the pool would have swim lessons, life saving instruction, synchronized swimming, swimming teams, and special separate nights for adults and teens. The bathhouse will also be heated and used as a skating shelter in the winter and for other indoor activities as well."

The proposed pool, to be located in the Woodland Trails Park on Euclid Avenue near Wolf Road, could accommodate between 800 and 1,000 people, said Weiss. "It will be adequate for the future growth of the park district," he added.

X-Ray Unit Here 2 Days Next Week

Free chest X-rays will be available to Mount Prospect residents Aug. 18 and 19 when the TB unit visits the intersection of Main and Busse roads.

Hours for the mobile unit are noon to 7 p.m. on Aug. 18 and 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Aug. 19.

The unit, sponsored by the Mount Prospect Women's Club, is equipped and staffed by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and the Cook County Health Department.

Unveil New Toll Access Plan

Plans announced yesterday for the Arlington Heights Road interchange with the Northwest Tollway show a plan that is shadowing the long-proposed full cloverleaf.

The original proposal, submitted last year to the Illinois Division of Highways from the Illinois Tollway Authority, showed two access ramps to and from the tollway and a circular ramp in the southwest quadrant.

The new plans, which have received an informal go-ahead sign from the state, show an additional circular ramp in the northwest quadrant of the interchange. As designed, the ramp will circle the Elk Grove Township Hall.

MIKE ENDRES, a design engineer for the consulting firm of Knoerle, Bender, Stone and Associates, which is preparing the plans, told the Herald that the state had advised the tollway commission to go ahead with the new plans.

The sketches and plans must now go to the legal department of the tollway commission for approval. The legal department is responsible for acquiring land for the project.

Then, if final state and county approval is granted, bids can be accepted for the project, which has been pegged at a total cost of about $14 million. It is scheduled for completion in fall of next year.

THE REVISED MAP of the project shows that the new circular loop in the northwest quadrant eliminates a traffic light north of the interchange.

Originally, westbound traffic headed for Elk Grove would have exited on the same ramp used by Arlington Heights traffic heading northbound. A light might have been necessary.

The new plan shows Elk Grove traffic from Chicago traveling beyond the bridge over Arlington Heights Road exiting on a ramp which circles and enters southbound Arlington Heights Road.

Other features of the plan remain the same. Westbound traffic exiting for northbound Arlington Heights Road will exit before reaching the bridge and will funnel into the road north of the bridge.

TO ENTER THE tollway from Arlington Heights, drive past the bridge and enter the circular ramp.

To enter the tollway from Elk Grove turn right before reaching the bridge.

Eventually, when traffic warrants it, tollway officials plan to convert the interchange into a full cloverleaf allowing entrance and exit in all directions for all traffic.

Residents of Elk Grove and Arlington Heights have been exiting for many years in favor of at least a partial interchange. The Tollway Access Committee (TAC), a group of residents of both communities has argued long and hard for the interchange.

Resume Remodeling

Construction work on Arlington High School's life safety program to make the building as fire proof as possible is resuming.

Wayne Fritch of the architectural firm responsible for the work told the High School Dist. 214 board last night that Capital Indemnity Co. is assuming responsibility as subcontractor for the project.

Fritch said that Sept. 1 has been chosen as a completion date but said he doubts that date can be reached.

THE CAPITAL INDEMNITY CO. has picked up the $24,100 cost of the project and is working to complete the remodeling, delayed for almost a year by contractor problems.

The board was informed by Dr. Robert G. Weber, assistant superintendent for business services that the district is having two surveys conducted of its phone services.

The six-school district is using an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. survey and a private survey in an attempt to cut telephone costs.

Slated for tentative approval last night was the $21.6 million budget for 1969-70, the largest budget in the district's history.

The board was also scheduled to consider approval of the 1969-70 student accident insurance contract.

Damage at $5,932

The Mount Prospect Park District has suffered a $5,932 loss on recreational equipment and facilities destroyed or damaged by vandals within the last year.

Ralph Darling, supt. of grounds and maintenance reported to the board last night the total cost covered damages at 16 parks from Sept. 1, 1968 to July 22, 1969.

Meadows, Lions, and Brentwood parks received the most damage. Vandals included damaged trees and bushes, ripped tennis nets, broken windows, cut swing chains, and stolen trash cans.

The damage at Lions Park is estimated at $2,137. Vandals forced their way into the main building and a warming shelter, breaking 17 windows and damaging one vending machine. Other damages included a smashed scoreboard and broken bleacher seats.

Darling also added that residents are using park areas to grow their own garden vegetables and walk their dogs, despite the signs posted by the park district.

In other action, the board purchased three and-a-half residential lots on We-Go Trail adjacent to the golf course for $43,750. The property was purchased pending condemnation proceedings filed by the park district two years ago.

Paul Caldwell, director of recreation, was appointed assistant director of parks and recreation last night. He will assist Tom Cooper with planning the district's recreation facilities and programs.

Caldwell's appointment is an increase in responsibility without an increase in salary.

Crank Thrown in Pool

Franksters pitched an ice cream crank machine into the backyard pool of Mrs. R. L. Kuehner, 1106 Busse, Mount Prospect, last weekend.

Mrs. Kuehner told police that several times in the past objects have been pitched into her pool and that she has no idea why they are doing it.

Bridge Plan Accepted

The Mount Prospect Village trustee's fire and police commission voted 2-0 to accept the proposal of Bernard Hemminger for construction of two bridges spanning Weller Creek at George and See Gwon Street.

Hemminger's proposal was for $170,000 for the two bridges and his fee is $9,350, approximately 5.5 per cent of the total fee. A third bridge spanning School Street is proposed to be built at a later date.

Another proposal was received from Conser Townsend and Associates. Their fee was approximately 8 1/4 per cent of the total construction cost.

Acting Village Mgr. John Zimmerman said, "Hemminger's proposal seems to be the lowest."

In other action, the commission recommended the placement of permanent stop signs on Cottonwood Drive at the intersections of Fern, Birch and Chestnut.

Cottonwood has been used as a by-pass during construction on Dempster Street, and temporary stop signs are now in place there.

by DON BRANNAN
Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself. Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967. PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected, he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all, these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School Dist. 21 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said

Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1969-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $120,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $20,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-50 age group, which accounted for 28.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race. Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.

From the Library

Summer Music

by LAURIE ROSSI

The best in conductors, singers, pianists, violinists, and ensembles are again gathered for the summer at Ravinia. In this relaxing atmosphere, one can enjoy such special attractions as Louis Falco and his dance company, Ravi Shankar-sitarist, and the Claude Kipnis Mime theatre.

Here you may dress up and sit under the shell, or you bring a picnic supper and stretch out informally on a blanket in the grass area outside. If you prefer, have dinner in the restaurant on the grounds.

Many people seem to be more aware of music in the summer because of outdoor concerts and more leisure time. Yet, there are still people who don't know that for a long time the Mount Prospect library has had a wide selection of records that can be checked out for home use. These can also be taped in your home.

THEY ALSO HAVE some good books on music like The Feeling of Jazz and The Language of Modern Music. One of the newest concepts in music today is electronic music, barely out of the experimental stage. You can read about this new phenomena in Introduction to Contemporary Music.

The Mount Prospect library wants you to have a well rounded, relaxing, and enjoyable summer. We think you can have one that is particularly memorable if you learn to enjoy it with books. If music isn't your favorite, maybe you'll prefer the new mystery novel or best-seller on the seven-day loan shelf.

If you have nothing specific in mind, then just come in and browse, any weekday 9 to 9 or Saturday from 9 to 5.

Three Charged In Shoplifting

Three persons were charged with shoplifting items from Randhurst stores late last week.

Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, a 34-year-old Des Plaines housewife, was charged with petty theft for attempting to steal $92 in clothing from Carson Pirie Scott and Co. She was released on $1,000 bond and is slated to appear in Mount Prospect court Sept. 4.

Janice Bourbob, 18, of 504 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, was also charged at Carson's with attempting to shoplift $64 in clothing. She will make a court appearance in Mount Prospect Aug. 21.

The third person charged was Mike Gale, 19, of 244 Smith Street, Palatine. Police said he was charged with shoplifting a sweater valued at $45 from Ward's. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Mount Prospect court Aug. 21.

Slay Double Agent?

SAIGON — A civilian attorney said yesterday a South Vietnamese national allegedly slain by eight members of the U.S. Green Berets was a double agent who spied for both Hanoi and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Military officials in South Vietnam and Washington, in clamping tight security on the case, have refused to identify the alleged victim and have not found his body.

New Offensive Starts

SAIGON — The expected Communist offensive in South Vietnam began last night with Communist gunners sending rockets and mortars into 91 targets throughout the country.

The attacks, the biggest in two months were forecasted by U.S. intelligence with reported troop movements from Cambodia and a build-up along the Demilitarized Zone.

Apollo Meets Nation

SPACE CENTER — The crew of Apollo 11 will hold their first news conference since returning from the moon and after three weeks of isolation at noon today, Chicago time.

Yesterday, Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins spent a quiet day with their families, and prepared themselves for the "hero circuit" on Wednesday with ticker-tape parades in New York and Chicago and state dinner in Los Angeles with the President.

Ad Release Refused

NEW YORK — The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) refused yesterday to release cigarette advertisers from current contracts for radio and television commercials but suggested the tobacco firms use the air time to advertise other products or for public service announcements.

NBC's refusal, coming three days after the American Broadcasting Co.'s (ABC) took a similar stand, appeared to kill the plan by the tobacco industry to end all broadcast advertising by Dec. 31.

Ballot Ruling Today

SPRINGFIELD — A decision is expected today by the Illinois Electoral Board on whether to obey a federal court ruling and hold a lottery to re-rank candidates for the Constitutional Convention.

The board is scheduled to reconvene at 3 p.m. today, hopefully after a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The deadline to certify the ballot is midnight tonight.

Poison Gas Abroad

WASHINGTON — The State Department has revealed that West Germany and Okinawa were the only two places outside the United States where this country has stored poison gas.

A State Department official said that Washington has promised Japan it will remove lethal chemicals from Okinawa, but added that such weapons would remain in Germany.

Police Press Manhunt

LOS ANGELES — Police are pressing their search for clues to the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons, and a double murder with striking similarities a dozen miles away.

A day after Miss Tate and the others were found, a middle-aged couple in the Silverlake district were found murdered under similar circumstances in a house once owned by the late Walt Disney.

OEO Power Is Curbed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — Pres. Nixon has announced steps that will virtually end the Office of Economic Opportunity as the operating, administrative agency of the War on Poverty.

Nixon made the move in part of his new welfare system he submitted to Congress yesterday. He asked Congress for a $4 billion added welfare package for his "workfare" system over the present cost of about $5 billion.

HEAD START volunteers staffed an empty classroom in Arlington Heights yesterday afternoon. Some parents of children in the program voted Friday to boycott today's classes in Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Palatine and Des Plaines and to demand that funding for the program be switched from Norwesco to some other agency. The group also plans to press for staff changes.

Resume Remodeling

Construction work on Arlington High School's life safety program to make the building as fire proof as possible is resuming.

Wayne Fritch of the architectural firm responsible for the work told the High School Dist. 214 board last night that Capital Indemnity Co. is assuming responsibility as subcontractor for the project.

Fritch said that Sept. 1 has been chosen as a completion date but said he doubts that date can be reached.

THE CAPITAL INDEMNITY CO. has picked up the $24,100 cost of the project and is working to complete the remodeling, delayed for almost a year by contractor problems.

The board was informed by Dr. Robert G. Weber, assistant superintendent for business services that the district is having two surveys conducted of its phone services.

The six-school district is using an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. survey and a private survey in an attempt to cut telephone costs.

Slated for tentative approval last night was the $21.6 million budget for 1969-70.

Bridge Plan Accepted

The Mount Prospect Village trustee's fire and police commission voted 2-0 to accept the proposal of Bernard Hemminger for construction of two bridges spanning Weller Creek at George and See Gwon Street.

Hemminger's proposal was for $170,000 for the two bridges and his fee is $9,350, approximately 5.5 per cent of the total fee. A third bridge spanning School Street is proposed to be built at a later date.

Another proposal was received from Consoer Townsend and Associates. Their fee was approximately 8 1/4 per cent of the total construction cost.

Acting Village Mgr. John Zimmerman said, "Hemminger's proposal seems to be the lowest."

In other action, the commission recommended the placement of permanent stop signs on Cottonwood Drive at the intersections of Fern, Birch and Chestnut.

Cottonwood has been used as a by-pass during construction on Dempster Street, and temporary stop signs are now in place there.

Spanish-speaking parents with children in local Head Start classes last night petitioned the Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity (CCOEO) for changes in the operation and staffing of the program.

With about 50 of their number present, parents thrashed out opinions with Ron Saunders of CCOEO and signed a petition requesting that Head Start funding be switched from Norwesco to another agency — probably the Northwest Opportunity Center in Rolling Meadows — and demanding Head Start's director, David Fankhauser, be removed from his post.

The group, representing centers in Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Palatine and Des Plaines, also petitioned that Arlington Heights teacher Mrs. Dorothy Adams be reinstated in her position.

Last night's session, conducted in Spanish, took place at the opportunity center. Saunders told the parents he will present their petitions at an Aug. 19 meeting of the CCOEO governing board, at which time decisions may be made concerning some of the problems besetting local programs.

INCLUDED IN THE lists of parents' grievances were that insufficient funds are spent on food at local Head Start centers, that Fankhauser is unsympathetic to their problems and that they feel excluded at Norwesco meetings they have attended. Representatives of the parents groups voted Friday to boycott classes and keep children home from school.

The boycott was successful in Arlington Heights, Wheeling and Des Plaines where staff confronted empty classrooms, but not in Palatine.

Plans for the boycott and last night's meeting were triggered when Fankhauser presented Mrs. Adams with an ultimatum last week, demanding that she refrain from contact with parents or leave her position.

Mrs. Adams drew praise from the parents last night. They described her as "dedicated and willing to do anything for children and their families."

Fankhauser said yesterday afternoon that many parents were unaware of the reasons for the boycott.

He also charged that Mrs. Adams didn't spend sufficient time in the classroom and this was the primary reason for his order for her to stop her work with parents.

Most staff members were on Mrs. Adams' side in the conflict. As the parents voted to boycott classes until "everything was completely ironed out," the children will most likely not attend school today.

News To Norwesco

The Norwesco board apparently did not know anything about the current boycott of the Head Start program until they read yesterday's edition of the Herald.

David Fankhauser, Head Start director, told the board at last night's meeting at the Southminster Presbyterian Church that "the boycott was very effective and attendance was spotty."

The Norwesco board went through the Head Start article in the Herald point by point and asked questions about who were the parents involved and why Norwesco hadn't been contacted.

NORWESCO MEMBERS were disturbed that they hadn't been contacted and wanted to know why no parents were in attendance at the board meeting.

Fankhauser said, "Apparently there were some very busy people running around the countryside telling parents not to send their children to Head Start."

"Parents didn't quite understand what it was all about."

Futurities

The Arlington Heights Memorial Library Board of Trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the library, 500 N. Dunton Ave.

The Park Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at Pioneer Park, 500 S. Fernandez Ave.

Jazz Band Wins First

The Elk Grove High School Jazz Band won championship honors Friday at the State Fair in competition with 17 other high school bands from Illinois.

A select band of 24 members, the jazz band was competing for the second time at the State Fair. Last year the band received superior rating.

The competition entitled Calvalcade of Music was a part of the Salute to Youth Day, the opening day at the fair. As a result of the win in the all-day competition the band was asked to perform in a special program in the evening before an estimated crowd of 70,000. Doug Peterson, band director, was then awarded the musical trophy by Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

THE EVENING program of professional musical acts was highlighted by a performance of the Iron Butterfly.

Unveil New Toll Ramp Plan

Plans announced yesterday for the Arlington Heights Road interchange with the Northwest Tollway show a plan that is shadowing the long-proposed full cloverleaf.

The original proposal, submitted last year to the Illinois Division of Highways from the Illinois Tollway Authority, showed two access ramps to and from the tollway and a circular ramp in the southwest quadrant.

As designed, the ramp will circle the Elk Grove Township Hall.

The new plans, which have received an informal go ahead sign from the state, show an additional circular ramp in the northwest quadrant of the interchange.

MIKE ENDRES, a design engineer for the consulting firm of Knoerle, Bender, Stone and Associates, which is preparing the plans, told the Herald that the state had advised the tollway commission to go ahead with the new plans.

The sketches and plans must now go to the legal department of the tollway commission for approval. The legal department is responsible for acquiring land for the project.

Then, if final state and county approval is granted, bids can be accepted for the project, which has been pegged at a total cost of about $14 million. It is scheduled for completion in fall of next year.

THE REVISED MAP of the project shows that the new circular loop in the northwest quadrant eliminates a traffic light north of the interchange.

Originally, westbound traffic headed for Elk Grove would have exited on the same ramp used by Arlington Heights traffic heading northbound. A light might have been necessary.

The new plan shows Elk Grove traffic from Chicago traveling beyond the bridge over Arlington Heights Road, exiting on a ramp which circles and enters southbound Arlington Heights Road.

Other features of the plan remain the same. Westbound traffic exiting for northbound Arlington Heights Road will exit before reaching the bridge and will funnel into the road north of the bridge.

TO ENTER THE tollway from Arlington Heights, drive past the bridge and enter the circular ramp.

To enter the tollway from Elk Grove, turn right before reaching the bridge.

Eventually, when traffic warrants it, tollway officials plan to convert the interchange into a full cloverleaf, allowing entrance and exit in all directions for all traffic.

Residents of Elk Grove and Arlington Heights have been arguing for many years in favor of at least a partial interchange. The Tollway Access Committee (TAC), a group of residents of both communities, has argued long and hard for the interchange.

Coronets Win First

The Coronets Color Guard and Drill Team from Arlington Heights won the first place trophy at the Springfield State Fair Sunday.

They received the flag given to the highest scoring drill team competing that day. On Saturday, the girls will leave for Philadelphia and the V.F.W. National Competition. V.F.W. Post 981 sponsors the team.

One Way Streets?

by MURRAY DUBIN

"One Way Streets Adopted In Arlington."

That's the way the headline read on Sept. 24, 1953. The question of one-way streets in Arlington Heights has popped up again, as a result of Village President John Walsh's remarks at last Thursday's Village Board Committee of the Whole meeting.

Walsh would like to see one-way traffic with diagonal parking downtown. He also proposed decking the Dunton Court parking lot to further alleviate parking woes.

The story under the Sept. 24, 1953 headline read, "One-way streets in the south-side business district of Arlington Heights will become a reality within a few weeks."

Announce Placement Tests for Dist. 59

A placement test for new School Dist. 59 students who will attend Tom Lively Junior High School, Elk Grove Village, will be administered Aug. 20 at 8:30 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

The test is for all students enrolling at Lively Junior High for the first time, including grades 6, 7 and 8. It is a basic achievement battery, the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills.

"NO SPECIAL preparation is necessary to take the test," Principal Charles H. Bassford said. However, each student is asked to bring several soft-leaded pencils for testing purposes.

Lively Junior High is located approximately 1/2 mile west of the intersection of Arlington Heights (State) Road and Biesterfeld Road, one block south on Leicester Road.

The test is scheduled to end around noon.

as the result of the action at the adjourned meeting of the village board Tuesday night.

THE STREETS affected then were Highland and Vail, between Sigwalt and Campbell; Dunton and Evergreen, between Sigwalt and Davis; Campbell and Davis, between Evergreen and Vail.

On Dec. 10, 1953, a front page story read, "The police, the firemen and many residents of Arlington Heights seem to favor the one-way street program, though many of the businessmen feel their installation has definitely been a detriment to business."

Arlington Heights officials began to listen to the business community's complaints about one-way streets and the April 29, 1954 headline stated, "Board Grants Plea of Businessmen to Return to Two-Way Streets."

FIFTEEN YEARS ago, Arlington Heights businessmen didn't like the idea of one-way traffic downtown. Apparently they still don't.

"One-way streets will create a problem and the Chamber of Commerce and most merchants are against them," said Wayne Walter, president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Arlington Heights had one-way streets once and it proved a big headache, he said. Walter added that he realizes the population situation is different now.

"Generally speaking we support Walsh's proposals and he commands a great deal of respect with the Chamber."

WALTERS SAID that with adequate parking, one-way traffic wouldn't be necessary and that the entire picture must be considered before a judgment is made.

"We represent the merchants and retailers and most of them feel that one-way streets would be a detriment to business," Walter said.

He added that he wasn't in a position to organize or open opposition to one-way streets.

TENNIS COURT light meters at Pioneer, Recreation and Hasbrouck parks in Arlington Heights were hit with crowbars and destroyed over the weekend. This is the third time during the summer the lights were put out of commission.

and Parks Superintendent Thomas Thornton predicts it will be another month before repairs can be made and residents resume playing under the lights.

Services Increase Cited

The community school services program established two years ago in School District 2 continues to roll along successfully, according to administrators of the program.

The annual year-end evaluation of the program revealed increased community participation in the programs. More concrete evidence of its acceptance by the community is shown in increased local financial support over the past two years.

"Most community school services projects in the state died out at the end of three years when federal money was no longer available for the programs," said Donald Day, coordinator of educational and social services for the Illinois Center for Community Education Development, which administers the district program.

"HOWEVER, WE don't expect this to happen in this case. Increased community participation in the project has been evident in all areas, and public bodies are giving us more financial support than ever before," he continued.

Evidence of this is demonstrated in the budget for the center.

During the fiscal year 1968-70, $103,000 in local funds, or 62 per cent of the total budget, will be used to support the programs. Federal funds, supplied under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act will amount to $75,000.

During the program's first year, federal funds for the program amounted to $130,000 and local funds to only $5,000.

DURING THE second year of operation, federal money dropped to $100,000 and local funding rose to $50,000.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, approximately 90 students were enrolled in the Young Adult Education Program, according to the year-end evaluation.

This program is for young adults, from 17 to 25, who wish to complete their high school education.

Of those registered in the program, 27 per cent completed their requirements for a high school diploma.

"This fall, we expect about 100 people to enroll in the program," said Day.

During the fiscal year 1968-69, 144 new cases were handled at the mental health clinic, and 110 were terminated.

THE CLINIC is beginning the 1969-70 year with 83 cases now in therapy, an increase of 66 per cent over one year ago, when 50 patients were being treated.

"This figure demonstrates that more people know about and are using the clinic, not that more need help with emotional problems," said Day.

A total of 194 persons have been served by the clinic in the past year. Nearly half, or 47.9 per cent, were from Wheeling. The next largest number, 21.1 per cent, came from Prospect Heights.

MALES IN THE 11-20 age group accounted for 33 per cent of those serviced by the clinic, with the next largest category women in the 21-30 age group, which accounted for 29.3 per cent of those treated at the clinic.

Participation in recreation programs also has increased since the project was started. In 1967-68, 23,681 persons participated in some phase of the recreational program. During 1968-69, this figure climbed to 26,265.

He Looks for 20,000 Jobs

by DON BRANNAN

Robert Pitner of Schaumburg plans to spend the next year job hunting. However, he won't be looking for a job for himself.

Pitner, who resides at 1104 S. Westover Lane, will be doing his job hunting for the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen (CAB), which has established the goal of obtaining 20,000 jobs this year for the hard-corps unemployed.

Last year CAB was instrumental in getting 11,000 jobs for the chronically unemployed in the Chicago area.

Pitner, a marketing executive, will be on loan from his employer, Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., to assist with the CAB program. He will spend about two days a week working on the project to find jobs.

DURING THE coming year, Pitner will be calling upon approximately 200 companies in the Chicago area to sell company officials on participation in the job program. "I usually talk to company presidents or personnel managers and attempt to sell the program to them," Pitner said.

The individuals the CAB program is designed to help are persons with low incomes and little education, Pitner explained. Those selected to benefit from the job program fall into certain categories: School dropouts, persons under 22 years of age, workers 45 years of age or over, handicapped workers, and persons with special obstacles to employment. No tests are given to participants.

"It's very satisfying to be able to help individuals through this job program," noted Pitner, 26, who spent two years with the Peace Corps in India from 1965 to 1967.

PITNER EXPLAINED that participants in the employment program are provided three types of assistance: Pre-employment counseling, on-the-job training, and vocational training outside of working hours or basic education courses.

"One of the biggest problems is to train the hard-corps unemployed in the habit of going to work daily," said Pitner. Most are individuals who have not had the incentive to help themselves in the past, or else they have had difficulty in getting to the place of employment, according to the bank executive.

The Schaumburg resident described the CAB job program as "very realistic" since participants are trained for actual jobs that private industry has a need for. "Participating industries in the job program have the option of training employees themselves or having them trained through a government program," Pitner related.

"WE ARE NOT so altruistic that we expect the employer to provide a job even if the employee does not perform adequately," he continued. "We make it clear to the employer that if the employee does not perform as expected he can be relieved. But we also urge patience on the employer's part. After all these people haven't had much opportunity."

According to Pitner, the Chicago Alliance of Businessmen is particularly interested in selling larger corporations on participation in the program to provide jobs for the hard-corps unemployed. "We would like to see the larger corporations agree to having 3 per cent of their labor force come from this group," he said.

PITNER NOTED that individuals placed in jobs are trained in an understanding of a capitalistic economy, as well as being trained in particular job skills for which there is a market. "Individuals in the job program are taught how they can channel money into their community and improve their lives," he said.

A job may be just a job for some people. But for Pitner, it is a means of changing someone's future.

"Most corporate personnel are very receptive to our program," Pitner added.

'Walking Closet' Sought in Theft

If you see a man wearing a size 42 suit, bedecked with jewelry, carrying two bottles of whiskey in his hip pocket, a fur coat over one arm and $300 in his wallet... report it to Mount Prospect police.

He may be the man who robbed the home of J. Muellens, 411 Garwood, Mount Prospect last weekend. Those are the items he is missing.

Muellens reported the incident to police after he returned from vacation. Police said the burglar had gained entry to the home by cutting through a screen door.

Three Charged In Shoplifting

Three persons were charged with shoplifting items from Randhurst stores late last week.

Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, a 34-year-old Des Plaines housewife, was charged with petty theft for attempting to steal $92 in clothing from Carson Pirie Scott and Co. She was released on $1,000 bond and is slated to appear in Mount Prospect court Sept. 4.

Janice Bourbob, 18, of 504 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights, was also charged at Carson's with attempting to shoplift $64 in clothing. She will make a court appearance in Mount Prospect Aug. 21.

The third person charged was Mike Gale, 19, of 244 Smith Street, Palatine. Police said he was charged with shoplifting a sweater valued at $45 from Ward's. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Mount Prospect court Aug. 21.

Marks Gets IVI Support

Thirteenth District Congressional Candidate Gerald Marks Monday received endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) for his GOP primary race.

Donald Rumsfeld in Rumsfeld's first bid IVI had endorsed former Congressman for the congressional seat in 1962.

Sheldon Gardner, IVI chairman, announced the endorsement at a press conference in the candidate's Skokie headquarters.

GARDNER SAID the award was given for Marks' "demonstrated integrity, responsible liberal initiative and willingness to be creative" during his term as a Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Marks was a district trustee from 1966 to 1968 but failed in a bid for reelection last November.

"The IVI board felt that Marks' youth and vigor are of the same high quality as that demonstrated by Rumsfeld when the IVI endorsed him in his 1962 bid for the Republican congressional nomination," Gardner said.

"MARKS' ENGINEERING background should make him, if elected, one of the most knowledgeable and effective members of Congress in the vital areas of air and water pollution," the IVI chairman continued.

Marks said the endorsement from the IVI is significant as there are about 140,000 independent voters in the 13th District.

He noted there were 42,669 votes for Rumsfeld in the 1968 primary and 186,714 votes for Rumsfeld in the November general election.

Marks is one of 11 Republican candidates in the Oct. 7 GOP primary, considered tantamount to victory in the Nov. 25 general election.
